The situation in the Suburban league, particularly as regards football, is still in unsettled condition. Further reports stated that Revere High School would replace Everett in the event that Somerville voted to continue. Further reports stated that Revere was ready to accept the invitation if it were presented.

Until the next meeting of the league officials, the date of which has not been scheduled, nothing will be done as to the replacing of the Everett team by some other school. The Newton High Intermediate football squad completed a most successful season on the griditon this fall going through an eight game schedule without defeat although tied by Weston High and Wayland High varsity and Lexington High seconds. The team was coached by Ralph Sanborn of the Newton High school faculty who has handled the intermediate teams for a number of years. Coach Sanborn used two complete elevens with each team playing about half of each game. The regulars were somewhat superior to the second eleven and the two tie games might well have resulted in victories. Especially is this true of the game with Weston which ended in a 14 to 14 deadlock. The regulars scored early in the game and then came back later on to score again and tie the count. Weston, incidentally, was the only team to cross the Newton goal line.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Now that the Board of Aldermen of Newton have gone on record urging the placement of ladders, ropes and other life saving material at Hammond Pond and other skating places in this city, it is the duty of this city to provide such articles along the shore of the Charles River between Eliot street, Newton Upper Falls, and the West Roxbury line. Several drownings have occurred along this stretch of the river.

Politics is a comparatively new game to the ladies. In past years law-abiding women in this city, who would not think of deliberately violat-ing any election law, have been obwould not think of deliberately violating any election law, have been observed passing out political circulars and cards right at the doors of polling places. To prevent any disagreeable incidents at the election next Tuesday, gentlemen—and ladies must remember that any political literature, "stickers" excluded, cannot be handed out within 150 feet of a polling place.

A large percentage of supposedly intelligent citizens who get "all het up" over national elections and State elections pay little attention to municipal elections. And yet, city elections are in many respects of more vital importance to people. If this city elected incompetent or dishonest Mayors and Aldermen, or School Committee members who might be of inferior calibre, it would soon be realized by the residents of the Newtons in increased tax-rates, inferior schools, streets and other public services. And the attractivenes of Newton might speedily lessen by the breaking down of the zoning laws and building code. So, it is the duty of the men and women voters of Newton, it is essential to their own personal welfare—that they go to the

All of which would appear to prove that the one alderman who voted against the creation of a blind corner at Centre and Elmwood streets, and the two aldermen who voted against allowing increased traffic difficulties by the establishment of a garage in a crowded section—were right, even though much in the minority. And which also appears to prove that when undesirable results will follow the granting of petitions, such petitions should not be granted — even though the petitioners may be prominent and influential citizens.

will make her home in New York where her husband is in business. The other afternoon as we drove westerly along Watertown street, we observed four automobiles stopped at the intersection of Walnut street, south of the traffic signal. Four other automobiles were stopped on Walnut street, north of the traffic signal. The drivers of these eight cars were waiting for the signal to show a green light. Apparently they were strangers in Newton who were passing through the city on State Automobile Route 128 of which route Walnut street is a part. The traffic signal displayed a fixed yellow light. The drivers of the stopped cars, or at least the drivers of the forward cars on either side of the signal were obeying the regulations of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts pertaining to street traffic signals. A fixed yellow signal is to allow pedestrians to cross highways and automobiles are not supposed to pass a signal showing this color. The traffic signal at the intersection of Walnut and Watertown streets was installed as a flashing beacon. Because it interfered with nearby radio sets it was topped from flashing some months ago. As a fixed light it is of little value in slowing down speeding motorists at this dangerous intersection. We sympathize with persons who cannot obtain decent radio reception because of the proximity of traffic signals. However, relief has been obtained in such cases by placing in signals a device which prevents the flasher from interfering with nearby radio sets. Such a device should be placed in the signal at Watertown and Walnut streets and in other signals which are supposed to flash, and which have not been flashing.

We have received a postcard from James J. O'Connor of Hillside road Newton Highlands, who is visiting England and France. The card shows the Tower of London. Some of the features of this famous place which impressed us were the ravens. Two of these ancient birds were perched at ether end of a settee and as we commented to one of the "Beef Eaters" on the naturalness of the "carvings," one of the old croakers hopped down to the ground—and one person looked rather foolish.

DO YOUR CHRISTMAS MAILING EARLY

Acting Postmaster Hurley of the Boston Postal district is preparing to put a large force of men at work, as a relief measure for the unemployed, handling the Christmas mails. Civil service regulations have been temporarily waived by order of President Hoover. All those taken on must be out of work and, where possible, the heads of needy families.

Do the people of Newton want to discourage responsible citizens from running for public office by encouraging "sticker campaigns"?

The Postoffice will further co-operate by limiting the employment of regular employees to ten hours a day so that substitutes may be engaged. THE IMPORTANCE OF YOUR VOTE

Make your plans now to go to the polls next Tuesday and VOTE. There being no votes to cast for Mayor and but two contests, the coming election has roused but little interest among the voters outside of the Ward 5 School Committee "sticker" campaign. Your vote counts more in elections such as this than it does when the percentage of votes cast is higher. A small number of votes might easily elect a candidate to office who is not the choice of the majority. Such a candidate is the majority of those voting, but if you want the right candidate elected be sure to cast your vote.

Majority report, six yeas, Alderman Temperley voting nay, recommending granting petition of Clarence M. Ricker for one express license at 997 Chestnut street, Ward 5.

Alderman Temperly explained that he voted against granting the express license to Clarence Ricker because this man is not a resident of Newton and has asked for the permit on the allegation that it was necessary in conjunction with an antiques business he conducts. Alderman Powers sustained the Upper Falls alderman and reminded the Board that it has been the accepted practice not to grant express licenses to non-residents. Fine Statues of Buddha

in Japanese Shrines

Four gigantic statues of Buddha have been erected in Japan. The largest one is located in the city of Kyoto, and dates from 1801. It is a wooden figure, consisting of only a head and shoulders; but even so it reaches to the ceiling of the lofty hall in which it is enshrined, and is 58 feet in

The next largest is 53½ feet in height, erected in the city of Nara. It is made of plates of bronze soldered

The third in size of these images. The third in size of these images, but which perhaps gives the most majestic impression of the four, is located at Kamakura, erected in the Thirteenth century. It is 49 feet 7 inches in height, and is formed of sheets of bronze cast separately, brazed together, and finished off on the outside with the chisel.

The hollow interior of the image contains a small shrine, and the vis-itor may ascend into the head.

The next, and smallest of the four. The next, and smallest of the four, was built in 1891 at Hyogo, in the precincts of the temple of Nofukuji. It is 48 feet high. It was largely through the efforts of a paper manufacturer of Hyogo, named Nanjo Shobel, that this statue was built. But it by no means equals the ancient statue at Kamakura.

Why Heavy Timbers in

Colonial Frame Houses Every American feels his interest kindled when he espies a historical frame dwelling whose construction date may go back 150 to 200 years to some early Colonial period. Comments upon the soundness of the construction of the construction of the construction of the construction of the construction. struction methods of those early days are made frequently without the speaker knowing in what ways they differ from today.

The braced timber frame was invariably used along the North Atlantic coast. The early colonists did not set out to invent this frame. They brought with them a tradition of heavy half-timber construction from the mother country. There was a great abundance of standing timber, cutting by hand was laborious, and timbers were used which were much stronger than required for strength. Posts than required for strength. Posts and girts were eight and ten-inch square-hewn timbers. — Philadelphia Ledger,

Excavation in Germany

Digging in Germany might prove a rofitable pastime. Within one week householder of Marionburg dug up a keg of 697 silver coins of 1625 and a keg of 697 silver coins of 1625 and 1626, which were probably buried during the Thirty Years' war; a tourist discovered the skeleton of a bear in a cave near Karlsruhe, where none have been seen for 300 years; graves of ancient Celts have been found with bones 5,000 years old; at Konigsburg the oldest find was a stone ax dropped there before the glaciers came down over Europe 8,000 years ago; under over Europe 8,000 years ago; under the altar of Speyer cathedral the stone sarcophagus of an early Christian saint was brought to light; near Frankfort-on-Main a Roman military camp has been excavated and found to be steamheated throughout its 16 rooms.

Named Cape Horn

Hoorn is a very famous place in Holland, for the old port sent out some of the most adventurous rovers that the world has ever seen. He was the first mariner to round the tip of South America, instead of getting into the Pacific by way of the straits of Magellan.

Recent Weddings

DURIS-WOMBOLDT

A very pretty wedding took place A very pretty weading took place on Thanksgiving afternoon, at the Church of Our Lady when Helena Blanche Wombolt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Womboldt, 12 Salis-bury road, Newton, Mass., became the bride of Joseph A. Duris of Westfield, Mass.

Miss Margaret M. Wohboldt attended her sister and Mr. Joseph Stinson attended the bridegroom. Rev. Father Robert Mantel performed the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a white taffeta dress with a veil of quaint Belgium lace, and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white roses nd sweet peas. The bridesmaid was gowned in flowered pink taffeta dress with hat and shoes to match, and carried a bou-quet of pink tea roses. The bride and groom received their many relatives and friends at the home of the bride's parents, where reception was held.

After an extended trip to New York City Mr. and Mrs. Duris will reside

more (R. John Henderson) and Mrs. Seamore (Mrs. Donald Hill) who add to the dignity of the cast. The two freshmen, comedy parts, are played by Les Woodman and Norman Edwards. All in all it is a collegiate plot with many comical situations and hilarity from start to finish.

Besides the play proper there are a number of special features. The College Glee Club, portrayed by 25 business men, opens the show.

business men, opens the show.

The famous flapper chorus, consisting of 28 business men as college girls is one of the high spots. Included in this group are the College Vamp, Sorority President, Betty Co-ed, Cleopatra, etc. The opening of the show is featured by a big Baby Pageant with over a hundred children between the ages of five and seven. The special dramatic reader, Margaret Rutherford, gives the readings and the children furnish an effective background. Another feature of the show is 35 school girls in costume choruses and special song numbers.

FROM BOSTON TO BOSTON

FROM BOSTON TO BOSTON

For the boys and girls of 1930, "From Boston To Boston," by Annie Russell Marble, gives a vivid, true picture of the boys and girls of 1630 who came from Old England to New England. This story of Hannah and Richard Garrett, illustrated by Frank T. Merrill is one of the outstanding books of the year with Tercentenary connections. It is published by Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Co. The narrative is based on incidents of the times, combined with Indian lore. It is a story and not a history, with several adventures and imaginative dramatic episodes. The atmosphere of the days of exciting dangers, hardships and valiant courage for the Puritans is well created by the author. Many real characters of Gov. Winthrop's time play their parts in the story. Plymouth, where Hannah Garrett spent six weeks after the fateful voyage of her father's shallop is the setting for two chapters. Facts, deftly woven about life 300 years ago in Boston, England and in the settlements of Salem, Dorchester, Plymouth, and Boston, New England, make this book of great value.

"Here! now!" yelled Constable Slackputer of Petunia. "What in torment d' ye mean fiddling and phillandering all over the streets with that automobile the way you've been a-doing today?"

"This is my first car," answered the offender, "and I haven't more than half learned how to drive it yet. I want to turn around, but there doesn't seem to be room enough in any of the streets here."

"Well, you just drive over to Torpidville, six miles away, circumnavigate the public square there, come back here and you'll be turned around."

THE WILLIAM HENRY LETTERS

The William Henry Letters, by Mrs. Abby Morton Diaz, with illustrations The William Henry Letters, by Mrs. Abby Morton Diaz, with illustrations from the original wood cuts, is an ideal gift for the young lad who likes to read. Theodore Roosevelt places this book as one of the three favorite stories of his boyhood. One has only to begin the book to understand why. The letters show an absolute knowledge of boy nature, and in bright breezy fun are unsurnassed. The first letedge of boy nature, and in bright breezy fun are unsurpassed. The first letter from William Henry Carter to his grandmother was written a few days after he had gone to boarding school and had begun to get acquainted with the other boys. Then they came frequently. As true to life today as they were when written they give an honest presentation of the life of an active, impulsive, straight-forward and thoroughly likable boy. There is no age limit to the appeal of this intensely human book published by Lothrop, Lee & Shepard Co.

Nelson and Wilson were discussing relatives in general and having exhausted the anvil pounding of the close relations started to hammer merrily at the more distant family connections.

"Have you any distant relatives?"

Nelson was asked.

"Yes, I have two brothers."

"What! Do you call brothers distant relatives?"

"These brothers are rich, you know," sadly explained Nelson.

Think to Stop
The after-dinner speaker had been talking for a long time, and the diners were praying for him to wind up.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

A largely attended service was held Thanksgiving day last week in the Newtonville Christian Science Church. A special Thanksgiving Lesson Sermon is prepared each year, and is printed in all the Lesson Quarterlies used throughout the world. This special Lesson-Sermon is read and studied by Christian Scientists everywhere, bringing out a world-wide oneness of thought on that day.

In some foreign countries the special service is held on our Thanksgiving day, but everywhere the thought of our country, and the significance of our Thanksgiving, are in the minds of those in all parts of the world who are reading and studying these Lesson Sermons. An increasing friendliness towards our country, and the promotion of a much desired universal goodwill, seems to be following this general recognition of the thanks. this general recognition of the thanks

By Edw. H. Powers

The Garrett drama, or comedy, has entered on another act. After the large sum of more than $25,000 was expended in "strenuous endeavors" to catch the erstwhile head of the "dry crusaders" of the Boston Police Department, Mr. Garrett, when he got good and ready, made his appearance at the Charles Street jail. Having heretofore been examined by allenists and neurologists, and having recently been under treatment by a dentist, it was deemed necessary to next have psychiatrists inspect Oliver. In all fairness to Mr. Garrett, he is also entitled to treatment from chiropodists and manicurists.

One of the most interesting articles we have read on the troubled situation in Palestine was a letter from Moses H. Gulesian of Chestnut Hill printed in last Saturday's Boston Transcript. Mr. Gulesian does not approve of England's attitude in catering to the Arab majority in that country.

The management of the Stuart Chevrolet Garage on Washington street, Newton, is offering a solution to the parking problem which bothers many owners of automobiles who have difficulty in finding parking spaces at Newton Corner. For a nominal charge of less than 20 cents a day this garage affords a clean, warm parking space for automobiles. The protection afforded to the motor and radiating system of a car during winter months by having it parked during the day in a warm place will more than save the low cost of storage, which is but $5 monthly.

Representative Albert Bullock of Representative Albert Bullock of Waltham has filed a bill with the Legislature which would authorize the Metropolitan District Commission to take by eminent domain, or purchase, the dam across the Charles River at Waltham near Moody street so that the flow of water in the river can be regulated and kept at a proper level to serve the health, comfort and convenience of the public. The bill would also give the Commission the right to acquire all water and other rights on the river. If this bill becomes law, Newton may have to pay quite an appreciable sum.

Any numbskull who operates an automobile at a higher speed than 25 miles an hour on streets covered with ice or sleet is a menace and should be deprived of the right to drive. The many fatalities on Thanksgiving Day were due in part to reckless driving under such conditions as prevailed on that day. Autoists who drive on highways at speeds of 30 miles and over when street surfaces are ice coated, not only endanger their own lives, but also the lives of other autoists and of pedestrians who may become the victims of skidding cars which dash onto sidewalks.

Several times in this column the statement has been made that the deplorable increase in automobile fatalities has resulted to a considerable degree because reckless and drunken drivers escape proper punishment; that they escape proper punishment because politicians, or influential citizens render assistance to autoists whose inconsiderateness for the lives and safety of others causes serious accidents. It seems that lady politicians, as well as men politicians, would mix influence with the administration of justice.

The tariff law permits Secretary Mellon to forbid importation of goods

Mellon to forbid importation of goods made by convict labor. Recently he issued an order expected to prevent importations from Russia.

If anybody says goods shipped from Russia are made by convict labor, or labor working against its will, goods cannot come in unless the Russian producer and the American importer can prove that no convict labor has been employed.

This looks like a hint for Stalin, the Russian boss, that we do not want to do business with him.

Millions of years ago, probably before men had appeared on earth, that creature was locked up in solid ic and preserved through tens of thousands of centuries. The Government at Washington seems not very proud of its World Court proposition and propaganda. You read that arrangements will be made to defer any action on the proto-cal. It will be mentioned to the Sen-ate, with the request, "Don't do any-thing about it just now, let it go over. It migh cause unpleasant discussion."
The Administration evidently knows, in a vague sort of way, that the people do not agree with international bankers, and do want this country tied up in any international network.

The Irish Labor Party believes in getting what you want, somehow. Well-to-do Irish people have invested one billion dollars outside of Ireland,

The Laborites suggest that owners of these foreign securities be compelled to lend a certain amount of their money to the Irish Free State, the money to be used "to develop vital Irish industries."

The plan is to build up Irish industries as national properties, give work to every man in Ireland, if possible, and, if not, to use profits from industries to pay wages to those for whom there is no work.

THANKSGIVING FOR 1350 PEOPLE

Thanks to 102 helpers the Newton Welfare Bureau has again been able to do its huge piece of Thanksgiving work. This year more was done than ever before and because of the effort and efficiency of all those helpers, it was done better and with less confusion than any previous year.

The 102 helpers consisted of 12 organizations:—14 churches, who gave complete dinners to families through the Bureau, also the boy and girl scouts who always help with the packing; 17 schools where the children bring all kinds of food stuffs, canned goods, etc.; 57 individuals who help pack the food stuffs into boxes for families; and 2 Newton business men were Mr. Archie Osgood of the Garden City Laundry who donates through the Newton Ratary Club at Thanksgiving.

Mr. Archie Osgood of the Garden City Laundry who donates through the Newton Rotary Club at Thanksgiving, the use of his laundry trucks for two days to collect the material and later deliver the boxes to the families, and Mr. Horace Orr who donated the use of a store where the work could be done.

$235 was given for special Thanksgiving work and this was used to buy complete dinners with "fixings" and also supplementing some of the boxes with meat orders. As a result of all this work 271 families were cared for, 127 of whom were given dinners by outside groups or individuals; 112 received complete dinners from the Welfare Bureau and 32 received boxes of food stuffs only.

These 271 families represented 1350 people. During these hard times this winter many Newton families would have gone without Thanksgiving dinner if it had not been for the help of all of those who made the Welfare
Bureau Thanksgiving possible. $235 was given for special Thanks

Pidgeon, of Boston, formerly chairman of the Legislative Department of the State Federation, and now a member of the Board of Education of the General Federation, will present the legislative program. Mrs. Pidgeon will present able experts both for and against the bills coming before the Legislature, and keen competition among these speakers promises a lively and interesting afternoon.

Another Fox picture is recommended for all ages, a clean-cut, entertaining story, with fine ethical values, of an English war hero who sacrifices himself for family honor, and carries on even under suspicion; well-told, with superb scenic effects, leaving an audience feeling an hour has been well spent—"Tonight and You."

on pointed gold seeker, and the love of a honky-tonk girl, with outstanding acting.

The following five stories are for adults only. "Big Money," a Pathe, is a well-constructed comedy of a messenger boy, with a knack for gambling, who falls in with a gang of racketeers, which, though beautifully photographed as well, unfortunately makes crime too alluring, "Rogue of the Rio Grande," a Sono-art, is a love romance of a Mexican Robin Hood, who steals from the rich to give to the poor. Lack of originality in plot makes the picture colorless and disappointing. "The Cat Creeps," a Universal, is a mystery story of suspense and with an excellent cast, that will appeal to lovers of this type of melodrama, but it is gruesome and has little humor to relieve the tension. "Derelict," a Paramount, is the story of rivalry on the seas, with fog and storm that is realistic, that is almost a tragedy through revenge. "War Nurse." a M. G. M., is the story of sacrifices of three women as war nurses, which shows the horrors of war too much to make pleasing entertainment, but which is well-cast and exceptionally well portrayed.

And finally, without softening word, "See America Thirst," a Universal, is NOT RECOMMENDED. A story of two tramps who, through mistaken identiy, pit one gang of gunmen against another, it is a poor theme for humor or entertainment.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

When charges are made against a state official it is no more than to be expected that they shall be treated as a matter of news and extensively reported by the newspapers. If the latter adopted any different course it would no doubt be charged that they were seeking to "hush up" matters of which the public should be fully informed. A competent official who has nothing to fear no doubt welcomes a rull investigation of his administration, no matter how much or how little space it may occupy in the newspapers.

because Santa Claus is far too busy these days receiving letters and secondly he was never known to have to learn. My third reason for suspicion is that the subject does not in any way treat of Christmas, although the matter with which it deals is not so remote from the Yuletide spirit in solving this mystery and if any readers has any deductions, suggestions or anything like that I wish they would communicate with me.

Here is what the letter says: "I anothing to fear no doubt welcomes a full investigation on his administration, no matter how much or how little space it may occupy in the newspapers.

It is an easy matter, far toe easy, if you should ask my private opinion, to make accusations. That is one of several reasons why I have offen thanked my lucky stars that the Fates or the voters, or both, have never seen fit to place me in a public office thanked my lucky stars that the Fates or the voters, or both, have never seen fit to place me in a public office the methods of my administration could go out and slam me with all kinds of unfair and unwarrantee criticism of the man who hold grow men who hold escrap which would prove me unfit temperamentally for a responsible office.

It is to be admitted that if we didn't have investigations and if these inquiries were not made public a lot of things would be done which should have previously been corrected and for which the taxpayers, usually the unsuspecting victims, are compelled to pay the bills. Therefore, we cannot discourage close scrutiny of the action of which the taxpayers, usually the unsuspecting victims, are compelled to pay the bills. Therefore, we cannot discourage close scrutiny of the action of which the taxpayers, usually the unsuspecting victims, are compelled to pay the bills. Therefore, we cannot discourage close scrutiny of the action of which the taxpayers, usually the unsuspecting victims, are compelled to pay the bills. Therefore, we cannot involve the provided that there be some basis for charges. The grand jury no bill is found.

Yet we can bring a charge against a public official and insist upon public hearing. Whether the hearing and jury heart of the provided tha when man's office is under suspicion. Vindication may follow but there will always be those who wink significantly and intimate that the half has not been told and that there was a coat of "whitewash" applied.

I know of a man who has had much criticism directed at him and who has semerged with a clean bill of health on several occasions. It happens that he is obliged to deal with lawbreakers who fear him and who chuckle when someone not of their kind shoots a volley of charges. This man, who easily might have yielded to the forces of corruption and without fear of detection feathered his nest and feathered it well, has remained straight and honest. But he still has to dodge bricks. Seems unjust when a man strives to give his best to the people that they cannot appreciate it.

There are some splendid improvements in Farlow Park, I speak not as a bicycle rider. If I did, no doubt I would write more enthusiastically for apparently bicycle riders feel that the new walk that extends across the park diagonally was put in merely to make life more enjoyable for them. Several people told me how Farlow Park had been improved and so I walked over to take a look and, as a expected, to admire the new conditions.

I did not hope to find bicycle riders monopolizing the new walk for no one had told me that they were to be given the right of way. Possibly they weren't given it but merely grabbed it. Bicycle riders have a way of assuming privileges that pedestrians mistakenly put down as theirs.

Ever since it was shown to me that it would be dangerous for youngsters to ride their small bicycles in the street, with automobiles dashing back and forth, I have gladly yielded to the argument. I think that there is grave danger in compelling little boys and girls to ride in the street where trucks and passenger cars roll along with little if any respect for other vehicles, especially children's bicycles.

All this does not give boys in their teens the right to drive along the sidewalk when the street is entirely free from yehicles a innovation. It takes the place of the old gravel path. Now then, is it to be used by boys on bicycles or for pedestrians of all ages? Little folks will use this walk and they are in far greater danger than grown-ups for they will not be alert to the bicycle riders when adults have learned to riders whom adults have learned to suspect of evil designs.

Whoever is responsible for the maintenance of good order in the parks should now, without delay, step in and not only step but put down their feet, good and solidly, in such a way that these boy bicycle riders would not fail to understand. Let's find out before another week has rolled past whether Farlow Park is to be a splendid unit of our park system or a bicycle rink.

A mysterious letter has come to this column. It would not have puz-zled me had not the writer signed himself "Santa Claus". That is plainly forgery. Why do I say that? First

When I say that the hunting season has begun I do not necessarily refer to the slaughter of deer and such things. I refer to those who are hunting for wooden boxes in which to place gifts or other things that are to be sent away for Christmas. I never saw such a dearth of small wooden boxes as seems to obtain at present. Now, it can't be all a matter of imagination or that those engaged in the quest have no power of initiative or perseverance or whatever is necessary. All this does not give boys in their teens the right to drive along the sidewalk when the street is entirely free from vehicles and when there is no excuse whatever for not staying on the road. The boys are either unaware there is such a city ordinance or don't care whether there is or not. They are so bold that they ride on the sidewalks at night, heedless of the law about lights on all moving vehicles.

The new walk in Farlow Park is an innovation. It takes the place of the sidewalk at the very saw such a dearth of small ever saw such a dearth of small even for imagination or that those engaged in the question is to the sidewalks at night to very saw such a dearth of small ever saw such a dearth of small even for imagination or that those engaged in the Question is the very saw such a dearth of small ever saw such a dearth of the saw such a dearth of small ever saw such a dearth of the saw such a dearth of the

is asked.

Instead of answering, the one to whom the query is put retorts with, "What do you want it for?"

The first party, equally dumb, replies, "I want to put something in it."

plies, "I want to put something in it."

Nobody has gotten very far on either side. The box-hunter is no nearer his or her goal and the helpful friend has contributed no help whatever.

"What kind of a wooden box do you want?", the second party asks.

"One that would measure about five inches one way and eight another."

"Five inches wide or long?"

"It doesn't make any difference," the one-who-seeks replies.

"Well, how deep has it got to be,"

"How deep?"

But why continue. You have heard this same dialogue many times and it will be repeated frequently from now until Christmas. I don't know what's become of all the wooden boxes, and, as far as that goes, I don't know if there are any available. Everything now is fibre and the old reliable wooden box is almost a thing of memory. In the happy past folks thought nothing of wooden boxes. They were everywhere and of every size. Try and find one now.

THE JOYOUS FRIEND

THE JOYOUS FRIEND

Throughout the week, Dr. A. Eugene Bartlett has been conducting a series of exceedingly helpful meetings at the Newton Highlands Methodist Episcopal Church. Delegations from many of the Newton Churches have filled the church to capacity. He has emphasized constantly that Joy is to be found in Christ and in living with Him. Sunday morning at 10:45 he will speak on "The Joy of the New Advance." Dr. Bartlett brings to the last day of his mission something of that radiance that was in the early church. In the evening at 7:90 the Vested Choir of the Needham Heights Methodist Church will sing and Dr. Bartlett will present a new and vivid picture of Christ. He appears in the costume of His time and speaks as an eye witness who knew Christ and came at last to love and serve Him.

Like most American singers, John

Like most American singers, John Charles Thomas first made his grand opera reputation on foreign soil. He began this phase of his career at the Royal Opera in Brussels and soon became one of the most popular members of that operatic company. He still makes a number of appearances there each year, as well as at the Royal Opera, Covent Garden, London.

During his four seasons at these houses, he has performed fifteen roles with brilliant success, among them Herod in "Herodiade", Amonasro in "Aidai", Amfortas in "Parsifal", Harrold in "Gwendolyn", Zurga in "Pearl Fishers", Orphee in "Les Malheurs d'Orphee", Toreador in "Carmen", Athanael in "Thais", Rigoletto, Tonio in "Pauliacei", Don Juan, Valentine in "Faust", Hamlet, Count di Luna in "Trovatore" and John in "Salome." His first appearance in the United States as a grand opera singer was in Washington as Amonasro. This was a significant debut in that it was in the nation's capital on the eve of President Coolidge's inauguration.

The comedy is held by Eugene Pallette, and by Stuart Erwin. The women, in addition to Miss Dee, are Dorothy Christy, Ziegfeldian beauty and Cecil Cunningham, a character comedienne of international fame.

Ludwig Berger's sly sense of humor went into "Playboy of Paris" to make it Chevalier's best, better than "Innocents of Paris," "The Love Parade" or "The Big Pond." The happy star sings three new song hits, "My Ideal," "It's a Great Life if You Don't Weaken" and "In the Heart of Old Paree."

For the last half of the week beginning Thursday, Gloria Swanson will be seen in "What a Widow". The 1931 orange and black outfit should have one of its most successful years if the presence of a wealth of veteran material is available. The only veteran of prominence who was lost by graduation was Captain Charles Hall of the last year's team who starred in the 600 and hurdles. Hall is now a freshman at M. I. With but two lettermen from last year's outfit which ended the league season in third place, the first in years, the outlook is none too promising although a number of veterans who are eligible may give the sextet the required class. Capt. Hildreth, left wing, and Dick Kelley, right wing, are the two letter men available. Bill Donnelly and Walter Billings, outstanding performers of last year's outfit are in school but have become ineligible under the three-year rule. Other candidates for the forward with more or less experience as substitutes last year are Warren Colby, Billy Chase, Kosrof Kosrofi and Dick Curry. On the defense the most promising of candidates who got into last year's games are Nick Sostilio, and Charles Butler. A number of these have been on the football squad and are in good condition. These include Hildreth and Sostilio, ends, Butler, a tackle and Kosrofian a guard. Graduation has removed Edgar Moore, goalie, from the line-up and his place is being sought by a number of candidates the foremost of whom are Al Robinson, Jackson Skillins, a transfer from Brighton high, Dick and John Hennessey, Wikstrom and Buell. None of these were on the squad last year. Robinson was the regular goalie on the intermediate varsity squad.

BASKETBALL

The Newton high school hockey squad will open the coming season on January first or second with a Greater Boston Interacholastic league game with Rindge Technical school on the Newton rink. This season the customary round robin series for the championship in which the first four teams have been eligible to compete will be eliminated. Instead of playing home and home games with each sextet in the league and topping it off with the round robin championship elimination series the league will play one game outdoors and one on the Boston Garden indoor surface with each other team.

The Boston Garden management has arranged six Saturday afternoons on which the league teams will use the indoor service. On each of the equintets the past two years, is on sabbatical leave and concentration of exciting sport. Newton will meet all the league teams but Rindge on the artificial lee. These games will be called at 1:45 to allow time to play all four contests. Each victory will count two points, ties one and losses nothing. The team with the highest total of points at the end of the fourteen games will be the champion. Other teams besides Newton in the league are Belmont. Stoneham, Woburn, Rindge Tech, Cambridge Latin, Melrose and Arlington.

In addition to its fourteen league games Newton will also play five games with outside schools giving the local sextet its customary schedule of approximately twenty games, two and occasionally three in a week. In recent years many games have had to be postponed because of lack of ice and the number of games played has been considerably less. The scheduling of outdoor league games early in the season has often resulted in several postponements which this year will have to be played off and consequently the schedule does not appear quite as, formidable as formerly.

Newton Boy To Manage Red Sox
Many Newton baseball fans were pleased to learn of the appointment of John "Shono" Collins to manage the Red Sox, Boston's American league team, next season. Although Collins was born in Boston on Dec. 4, 1885, his parents moved to Newton Upper Falls shortly after and his baseball career began with the Upper Falls team of the early 1900's. He was a pitcher when he took his first professional engagement with Lynn, More recently he was with the Red Sox and the past few years has managed Pittsfield, Des Moines, and Nashua. At Des Moines he took over the reins in mid-season when the team was in last place and at the end of the year had brought it to within a game of second place.

Flora Bert Lotz, 16, of 165 Bigelow road, West Newton, was found dead about 8:30 Sunday morning in the garage at her home. She was seated in the driver's seat of an automobile in the garage. The motor of the car was stopped but the ignition switch was on. Carbon monoxide fumes had asphyxiated the girl, who was a junior in the Newton High School. The door of the car was partly open and so were the doors of the garage. The girl was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Lotz who came to this city from St. Louis a couple of years ago. Her father is an executive for the New England area of a large chain store organization.

When the young girl was discovered in the car, her father called Dr. Helmuth Ulrich of Valentine street and the Newton police were notified. For two hours Inspector King and Patrolmen Carroll, Coady and Hammill, under the direction of Dr. Helmuth attempted to resuscitate the girl. The small loan companies are now generally regarded as rendering an important community service and should be considered a real asset to the city.

Loans up to $300 are made to worthy people who are of good character but who find it difficult to obtain loans through ordinary banking channels because of the lack of suitable security. The companies operate under a license granted by the State Banking Department and the charges on the loans are fixed by law.

Mr. A. C. Frank the manager of the Prudential Financial Corporation, with offices at 392 Centre street, Newton, Massachusetts, says that their business is growing very fast. This company does a large business in this city as well as having many customers in nearby communities.

Recently a summary was made of ten thousand loans and it was found that by far the greater number of loans were made for purposes which, if this type of loan service had not been available, would have worked a hardship, and in some cases suffering on the part of the people who received the loans.

Dean Lord's figures show the earnings from 14 to 60 on this type of untrained man usually total about $64,000, or $1400, a year. The highest point that this man reaches in income is in the vicinity of $2,000. That usually obtains between the ages of 45 and 50.

Considerable Excitement Caused
Last Sunday Morning

Last Saturday Mrs. Sloan, assistant librarian in charge of the Children's Room at the Newton Free Library on Centre street, Newton, received a new book. It is a book about animals and Room at the Newton Free Library on Centre street, Newton, received a new book. It is a book about animals and on its cover is a picture of a dear little doe; a little deer with appealing eyes. To acquaint the children who patronize the room with the new volume, Mrs. Sloan placed it Saturday afternoon conspicuously on an easel in the room. Call it a coincidence, or what you will, on Sunday noon into this very same room came a real little doe which might well have served as the model for the picture on the cover of the new book. Where the little deer came from, or how it managed to wander into one of the most thickly settled parts of Newton, is a mystery, but at noon Sunday, Mrs. Ethel Swift, who resides in a house next to the Library, and telephone girls at the Newton North Exchange, which adjoins the library building, heard a crash of glass and then observed the Goe running about the children's room and connecting rooms in the basement of the library building. Mord was sent to Timothy Shannon of Charlesbank road, who is a janitor at the Library, but before he arrived at the library. Chaffin Fund Is Now Aiding Fifteen

Highland Glee Club Concert Is Success

Trustees Can Consider Another Baritone Soloist Well Received By Applicant For Loan Large Audience

Leverett Saltonstall, Chairman of the Chaffin Educational Fund, has announced that fifteen boys and girls are already being assisted in securing a college education through the fund and that the trustees are in a position to consider one more applicant.

The capital of the fund which became available for the first time this year from the will of the late John C. Chaffin is estimated at $275,000. The mone is estimated at $275,000. The mone is estimated at about $11.000 and is being spent to aid boys and girls, graduates of Newton schools, to obtain a college education. The money is in most instances given in the form of a loan to be repaid at the close of the college course. In certain instances the aid may be in the form of a gift outright. The amount available to any one student during a year is $500.

Applications for the coming college year should be filed next spring. Former Mayor Edwin O. Childs, who is now Secretary of the trustees, will next year become Chairman.

ing the careful training they have received under their ctapable Conductor, D. Ralph Maclean.

The selections rendered by the Glee Club, though less pretentious than on some former programs, were for that reason the more interesting and enjoyable, and it is hoped that future programs will be patterned after this one. The customary singing of carols in the final group was very appropriate and in keeping with the season. The singing of Mr. Thomas was superb. No audience would fail to be immediately impressed with the greatness of his art. Of American birth and training, he has won recognition in three fields—Opera Comique, Grand Opera, and Concert—both in this country and abroad. With vocal alchemy that transmuted every song he touched into pure gold, he enchanted the appreciative audience. Throughout his program Mr. Thomas held his voice under extraordinary control. The resonance and richness of every tone of an extensive range are almost beyond one's power to adequatefy describe. Meticulous phrasing, and a diction so perfect as to leave never a doubt, a legato of flowing smoothness, and adherence to absolute pitch are all an integral part of Mr. Thomas's perfect vocalism. Though a voice of bartione quality, the upper registers recall Caruso in the matter of golden resonance and luscious richness. There are probably few interpreters of song who so poignantly tell tneir story.

A glance at Mr. Thomas's reviews of his successes would lead to the belief that each appearance transcended the former one. And so, one unaccustomed to musical tradition and technique could go on and on delving for superlatives to express the unalloyed pleasure which last evening's concert gave.

pleasure which last evening's concert gave.
With erstwhile comment, and profound respect to the charm of the feminine artist, last night one felt in the presence of a distinct male organization. The concert was a man's job, and was carried on from start to finish in real man fashion.
Mr. Switzer, club accompanist, justly shared honors with Mr. Maclean. Mr. Lester Hodges was accompanist for Mr. Thomas.

Newton Dramatic Club Performance

"Nell N'Orleans" Presented At Nearly Four Thousand Dollars
Newton Centre Received To Date

Newton Centre

Over four hundred people attended the premiere performance of the Newton Centre Woman's Club House last Wednesday evening. The play, "Miss Nelly of N'Orleans," was admirably presented by a group of players of wide experience, who skilfully pertrayed the spirit of old New Orleans. The story, one of southern romance, concerned the return of Miss Nelly to her old home after an absence of twenty years, to find her niece in love with the son of the man who had repudiated her twenty years before. Various complicated situations, both comic and tragic, involving the emotions of Miss Nelly, the niece, the father, and the son, lead to the final climax which found the love affairs of everyone satisfactorily settled. Mrs. Philedah Rice, of the Philedah Rice Players, as Miss Nelly, gave an excellent interpretation of a difficult part. Harrison Crofford of Boston, playing opposite her as her old lover, Georges Durand, skillfully portrayed the behavior and manner of speaking of a southern creole gentleman. The parts of the son, Felix Durand, and of the niece, Delphine Falaise, were very adequately played by Donald Charlton of Cambridge, and Betty Ann White of Boston. Other people contributing to the success of the performance were Mrs. Melville Liming as property manager, and Ralph B. Emery as business manager.

The president, Albert R. The program for the season includes two more plays in the Newton Centre Playground Community House. Mr. Speare also announced that a One-Act Plays, musicales, and other social functions at the Newton Centre Playground Community House. Memorial Windows Are Consecrated

Services At Channing Church Last

Four beautiful windows, commemorating Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Hardon and Mr. and Mrs. George Lane, placed recently in the chapel of Channing Unitarian Church, Newton, were consecrated at the services last Sunday morning by the minister, Rev. Chester A. Drummond. Of exquisite design and workmanship the windows supply the last detail needed to complete the chapel as a gem of beauty as well as an ideal place of worship. The chapel, formerly the kindergarten room, seats about fifty persons and is admirably adapted for services bringing together small groups. mall groups.

Again it must be made clear that seals sold on the streets, or from house to house, by children, are not the true Christmas seals. They are only commercial. There are seals being sold by children which are consigned to them to sell for small commissions, or for prizes. Such seals are being offered in Newton from a firm in Brooklyn, New York. By buying the Tuberculous Health Christmas Seals you are helping to make your own city safe for your own people—especially for children in schools.

The windows themselves are framed in noble setting with lovely tracery, a suggestive of the strength and permanence of our faith and purpos In this day of quickly-shifting scene and self-assertion, these windows depicting lives and events of long agreal to remembrance that we are debtors to the past!...

It is in this spirit that the lives of olden Saints have been chosen to speak to this people in days to come of "four workmen in the temple" who lived and wrought without thought of such an hour as this.—who would have been first to disclaim any association with sainthood.—but whom we delight thus to recall because it is upon the fidelity and the consecration of such as these, that the Cause of Christ must continue to rest.

ers. Mrs. Cornell won by a majority of 98 votes.

Alfred V. Guzzi, a West Newton youth, who first was a candidate for Ward Alderman against Chester Prior, and later decided to run for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 3, polled 742 votes as compared with 3427 votes cast for William F. Chase, the present incumbent. The only other contest was in Ward 2, where Reuben Kligman of 456 Watertown street ran against Fred W. Woodcock, the present Ward Alderman. Woodcock won easily, receiving 477 votes; Kligman received 105.

Probably in the history of city elections no better opportunity presented itself for some aspiring citizens to get elected to the City Government. Because of the very small vote, it would have been comparatively easy for some "dark horses" to have done a little quiet campaigning and defeated the regular candidates.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON ATHLETES AT MANY COLLEGES

Every year Newton is well represented in college sport and this year is no exception. In addition to the many high school graduates who have added their bit to the sport history of the orange and black there are a number of other youths whose home is in the Garden City that matriculated at the college of their choice from some private school.

During the past gridiron season a number of Newtonites participated in football as members of the varsity or freshman squads. At Dartmouth the Green team was led by Captain Harlold Andres of Newtonville, a three sport athlete at Newton and for the past three years at Hanover. Andres has been a mainstay of the Dartmouth line at the pivot position for the past three seasons. Henry L. Johnson, Jr., a three-sport athlete from Waban, and Leonard Clark of Newton Highlands were the other two of Newton's trio on the Dartmouth varsity. Johnson started a few games at fullback and substituted in other games. Clark was the outstanding interfering back on the squad but failed to get into the major games-because of a knee injury.

Two other colleges each had three local youths on the varsity griding squads. Carleton McCullough of New ton Centre made the Boston Univers ton Centre made the Boston University team as a freshman four years ago prior to the adoption of the freshman rule. The season just passed was his fourth as the left end of the team. He was handicapped considerably by injuries this past season. Daniel Harington, another Newton high graduate and now a sophomore at the Hub university, won a guard position at the head of the season and was university, won a guard position the beginning of the season and was the only Terrier player to start every game on the schedule. Last year Harrington was a star with the freshmar eleven. Arthur Chamberlain, the third local youth on the Terrier squad a substitute centre and towards the end of the season was transferred the end of the season was consistent to a reserve halfback position. Chamberlain is a sophomore and like McCullough and Harrington, a two-sport

Another trio of local performers were on the Bowdoin College varsity squad. Creighton Gatchell, who was a star centre at Newton high, followa star centre at Newton high, following Harold Andres, was the starting quarterback in the majority of the Polar Bears games. He is a junior at the Brunswick college and is a three-sport athlete. As a freshman he started at centre but due to a fractured shoulder in the early part of last year's season he did not see much action with the varsity. With a wealth of centre material this fall the Bowdoin coach took cognizance of Gatchell's versatility and made him a quarterback. George Souther, end and captain of the Bowdoin eleven, entered Bowdoin from Huntington school tam of the sowdoin eleven, entered Bowdoin from Huntington school where he participated in three sports. Harris Plaisted of West Newton, an-other private school graduate, re-lieved Gatchell at quarterback.

At Brown Newton was represented Ernest Hapgood of Newton High-nds and Kent Allen, both seniors. At University of Pennsylvania the representative was Melbourne leon of Newton Lower Falls, for-Newton high and Cushing Acadend. Hemeon was a reserve end with two more years ahead of should take an active part in University of Pennsylvania the

Among the freshman gridiron players who live in Newton were Frank Spain and Bob Bennett of Newtonville and Dartmouth who prepared at Exeter academy after graduating from Newton; Carl Pescosolido of Harvard who spent a year at Deerfield academy after leaving Newton high; Joe Gilligan of Newtonville who prepared for Yale at Newton high and Roxbury school of Connecticut; and Everett Scheinfain, Dick Hapgood and Larry Brown of the Brown yearlings. Scheinfain is a former Newton high captain and Bridgton academy end. Hapgood is a former Newton high and Cushing academy linesman while Brown is a newcomer to the Garden City. Two other locals were also on the Harvard squad and saw some action. They were Francis Gleason, who prepared at Country Day School and William Sutcliffe, who was a teammate of Scheinfain's at Newton and Bridgton academy.

At Bowdoin both Souther and Plais-ted, football lettermen, are candidates for the ice team. At Harvard there will be John Garrison of West Newton who prepared at County Day school und Wilson Crosby who matriculated and Wilson Crosby who matriculated from Exeter Academy. At New Haven Alexander Fletcher, ex-Newton star, is making a real bid for a forward position on the Eli Yale. In addition to the athletes mentioned there are a number of others who confine their athletic endeavors to baseball which will make an interesting story when the weather is more suitable for the great national game.

SPORT NOTES

Now that the cleats and moleskins have been put away for another year, Frank Spain and Bob Bennett, local youths at Dartmouth, have turned their attention to hockey. Both are freshmen and should find places for themselves on the Green yearling six. Spain is one of the best hockey players that ever wore the orange and black of Newton high school. Last year he captained the Exeter academy six. He is a wing with plenty of speed and poke-checking ability. Bennett is a rugged defense player and was a teammate of Spain's both at Newton and Exeter.

GOOD PROSPECTS

tion. Spencer deMille of Wentworth has been the only wearer of the orange and black who has played for an organized team since graduating from high school. This low mark is undoubtedly due to the fact that the sport was not re-established at Newton high until three years ago after a lapse of over a dozen years and the calibre of play has not been raised to a sufficiently high level to allow Newton graduates to compete with lads from other schools unless of outstanding ability.

On the track, however, it is doubtful if any school has a better or biger representation than Newton. Space does not permit of the enlargement of the activities of each individual so the list is of necessity published in concise form. The individuals, and their present colleges follow:

Dashes With the loss of but one veteran from the 1930 high school track team Coach Donald Enoch, coach, is looking forward to the possibilities of an excellent season on the boards this winter. In addition to the wealth of veteran material available a number of excellent prospects have reported for practice to give the team balance. As this latter group will be eligible another year indications are that the orange and black will continue to rank high in scholastic competition for another two years. Last winter the team, captained by Charles Hall, performed creditably in its dual meets another two years. Last winter the team, captained by Charles Hall, performed creditably in its dual meets as well as placing close to the leaders in the various interscholastic affairs. Hall, now a freshman at M. I. T., is the only point scorer of last year's outfit that was graduated last June.

In the dash Walter Holmes, negro star who was one of the best in the short sprint although in his first year of competition, is again on hand and should come close to scoring five points each time he competes this season. He will have plenty of opposition from other schoolboy stars, however, among them Arthur Jannell of Lynn English who has defeated him. Donald Irwin and Harold Quinlan, are other veteran dash men on whom Coach Enoch can count to pick up other points in the dash. Foremost among the new candidates in this event are Douglas Sloane and Harry Hatchell. Captain Milton Greene should be one of the outstanding school-boy stars in the hurdles this year. He was knocking at the door many times last season although it was his first attempt at the barriers. With that year of competition and experience most of his competitors this winter will be looking at his back.

Irving Fine, who with Green and Hall made up the trio of Newton hurdlers last year, is still in school but ineligible under the three-year ruling. Elliot Bradley, another colored youth, has been looking fairly good in practice and with experience should improve.

In the 300-yard run the Newton mentor will have Alfred Mouser and Donald Irwin as his two mainstays. Hatchell and Sloane are two of the newer candidates whom Coach Enoch will give a lot of attention to at this distance.

will give a lot of attention to at this distance.

Despite the loss of Hall, whose favorite distance was the 600 yard event, there are five candidates who stand out. Alfred Guzzi, a veteran of last year's relay team, is one of the foremost. The others are Douglas Chalmers of the cross-country team and three lower classmen, Tom Malloy, Peter Ryan, and Joe Pescosolido.

The biggest prospect Newton has in scoring slams in the coming dual meets is in the 1000-yard run where the Signore brothers Vincent and Augustus, George Lamb and Arthur Quincy will take care of the event in excellent shape. The quartet were the four leading runners on the cross-country team this past fall while the two Signore brothers were frequent point scorers on last year's track team.

Local tennis fans are interested to learn of the presence of several local players among those ranked high in that sport by the ranking committee of the New England Tennis Association for their play during 1930. Lawrence B. Rice of Newton Centre is ranked fourth in Men's Singles although he was unable to play in many of the principal tournaments. Malcolm T. Hill and Henry L. Johnson, Jr., Waban cousins, are ranked first in Men's doubles. Miss Virginia Rice, former Newton. Turning to hockey the list is nearly as long. At Dartmouth there is Andres and Johnson, both defenses men who will probably be the Green's regular players this winter. At Boston University are Holmes Whitmore and Arthur Wilson, forwards and Harrington ât goal. Whitmore is a veteran now in his senior year while Wilson is making history by winning a place as the regular centre although never before having been a member of an organized sextet. Harrington is staging a real battle to oust the regular goal-tend from his berth. Logical Conclusion

"The time is not far distant when we shall have our food concentrated in tiny round tablets," a natural scientist declares. We are afraid that this will mean the end of the square meal.—London Humorist.

William Haynes will make his latest talkie appearance in "Remote Control" at the Egyptian Theatre, starting Sunday, December 14. This play is regarded as his best vehicle since he made his star record in "Alias Jinmy Valentine."

"Remote Control" combines a mystery plot with comedy situations which afford Haines a new outlet for his talents as a comedian. As the impersonator of well known radio stars, such as Amos 'n' Andy and Uncle Elmer he puts on an entire radio program by himself. The play adapted from the popular stage hit gives the thrills of a holdup atop a fashionable roof garden. Mr. Haines is supported by a cast of well known artists including Charles King, John Miljan, Mary Doran and Polly Moran.

The co-feature is "The Love Trader" in which Leartice Joy represents the suppressed young wife brought under the spell of the lazy romantic life which surrounds her. Henry B. Walthal is the God-fearing sea captain who forgets his wife's youth in his quest for money. Others of the cast are Noah Berry, Barbara Bedford and Chester Conklin.

The feature for Thursday, Friday and Saturday is "Virtuous Sin" with Walter Huston, Kay Francis and Kenneth MacKenna. Huston, the powerful he-man tyrant, meets his match in lovely Kay Francis. The co-feature is "For the Love of Lil." Jack Mulhall, Elliott Nugent and Sally Starr are the stars of this scintillating comedy romance.

The Derbys, the Crowinshields and the rest sent their ships around Good Hope, to the East Indies, and long before the East Indian traders knew the names of Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore or Boston, they knew well the name of Salem. There is no spot in England more wrapped in mysterious charm than Land's End. It is the jumping off place of a million imaginations, and when the freedom to travel is pos-sible, a trip to Land's End will prove one of life's happiest realizations. If you would try it, put up a week-end or more at St. Just, or St. Ives, Pen-deed, or at old familiar Penzance of Gilbert and Sullivan fame. After a night's rest, wander forth into the quaint old streets, visit fisher homes in sheltered nooks, climb old cliff paths, pulling and puffing out the finest Atlantic air and before the train takes you away you will discover that the lure of Land's End was a charming trick to introduce you to several of the loveliest villages of old England.-Boston Herald.

LIGHTEST VOTE EVER

Newton had a municipal election last Tuesday. Perhaps it was not generaly known, as but little more than fourteen per cent of the registered voters exercised their privilege. With but one city-wide aldermanic contest, one ward-aldermanic contest and a "sticker" contest for school committee it was contest and a "sticker" contest for school committee it was generally expected that the vote would be light. It was the lightest vote ever cast at any city election in Newton which does not reflect to the credit of those who failed to vote. The voters who did go to the polls showed their faith in the present Aldermen by re-electing William F. Chase Alderman-at-large from Ward 3 and Fred Woodcock, Ward 2 Alderman. Determining World Time Standard time seems to have been first suggested by Charles Dowd of Saratoga Springs in 1870. In 1879 the question was again raised by Sand-ford Fleming, chief engineer of the Canadian Pacific railway. It was brought to the attention of the leading governments of the world, and an in-ternational conference was called in 1882. It met in Washington on October 1, 1884. The delegates of 26 countries were present, but did not unani-mously agree. However, most of them favored the adoption of Green-wich, England, as the origin of longitudes. The French were the only representatives of importance that would not agree, and it was not until March 10, 1911, that France abandoned the meridian of Paris and adopted that of Greenwich as its prime meridian.

Oklahoma Windiest State?

The weather bureau says that the question as to which is the windlest state in the Union has never been ac curately determined and it is probably impossible to make a positive state-ment. However, it is quite probable Oklahoma as a whole is the windiest state in the Union. This is due to the fact that the winds are rather constant at moderately high velocities during the entire year in this state; in many other sections the winds may at times average higher than in Oklahoma, nevertheless, they are not so constant, or cover so com-pletely the entire state.

Wrote His Own Letters

Grover Cleveland never dictated any of his correspondence or public addresses, but always made the first draft in his own hand, recalls George F. Parker, quoting George B. Cortel-you, in his "Recollections of Grover Cleveland." "During my stay at the White House as his executive clerk there was but one instance in which he dictated anything and that was the He dictated a few sentences of the letter and then, turning to the stenographer, said, 'Oh, you know what I want to find out; fix it up and bring it in to me.'"

Wise Old Coyote Takes Few Chances on Traps

Ordinarily the coyote does not band like the timber wolf. The person unacquainted with covotes and their hab-its would hardly believe the above statement after listening for the first time to the howling of one or two of these animals. The coyote can make more noise for his size than any an-imal in the woods and a solitary male can so change the volume and direc-tion of his voice that one would almost swear there were a dozen coyotes doing their stuff.

If a coyote locates dead game and is afraid to run chances of getting his toes pinched he will, provided he is a wise old beast, employ a simple strategy to test the danger of the place. Setting back on his haunches he will send a few well-rounded calls into the air, a sort of hunting cry which sigalt, a sort of nunting cry which sig-nals for help. The nearest coyote, par-ticularly if it be a young and un-initiated fellow, will answer the call and come post haste. While the wise one holds back the newcomer will walk up and investigate. Presently, provid-ing nothing serious happens, the old one will come on in and partake of the feast. But, as sometimes happens, if the youngster steps into a steel trap the other unceremoniously takes his leave, another sly wrinkle of wisdom forming on his shrewd face as he steals cautiously away.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Robert A. Vachon of Newton Centre has received from his brother, Andrew Vachon of Tanana, Alaska, a pair of snow-shoes made by Indians of that region. The shoes are very light in weight and of quite different design from snow-shoes ordinarily seen here. The front of these Alaskan shoes are arched somewhat after the manner of a sea-sled; probably for the same reason—to permit speedy travelling. Mr. Vachon's brother has been a resident of Alaska for many years.

"Just Darned Nuisance"
The idea that there is something unlucky about the $2 bill—so that many persons tear the corners off them to avert misfortune—occasionally arouses curiosity.

A number of our readers have written in with suggestions to account for the belief in the unluckiness of this particular note. One, however, a merchant in Pennsylvania, says from his experience as a retailer that "there is no question of superstition in connection with the $2 bill, it is just a darned nuisance.

"There is no compartment provided in our cash register for them," he writes, "and when we are handed one by a customer we have to secrete it away somewhere until we get a serious problem which complicates the moving of the old building at West Newton which houses police headquarters and the police court is—the providing of safe storage for the court records. According to law court records must have proper protection from fire and other hazards. The records of the Newton court are stored in a huge concrete vault which cannot allow these records to be stored in a temporary vault which will not adequately safeguard them. Neither would it be practical to store the records in a building removed from the court house because these records have to be accessible.

The Mannekin

A few minutes away from the Grand place of Brussels—"noblest of medieval squares"—at the corner of the Rue de l'Eture and the Rue du Chene, stands the famous Mannekin fountain. This impudent rascal is a popular hero, everywhere known as the "oldest citizen of Brussels." Whenever visiting celebrities wish to please the Bruxellois, they present the Mannekin with a new suit of clothes, He has costumes of many nations—from a Napoleonic uniform to a gayly embroidered Japanese kimono—all of which are kept by the city for him to wear on special occasions. But whether naked as he was made, or decked out in an admiral's gold braid, he continues to fulfill his role of being the merriest fountain in Europe.

Alaskan Eskimos, and in the Macken-zie delta region such dwellings are used only in emergencies.

The snow house has long been and still is the winter habitation of a number of Eskimo groups scattered eastward from Coronation gulf to Greenland. Even in that desolate region the snow house is regularly in-habited only when no other building materials are available. Some of these Eskimo bunters are very adept at constructing houses of snow for the temporary shelter of their families. The Labrador Eskimos do not live in snow houses, and out of the 15,000 Eskimos in Greenland only a few hun-dred living around Cape York ever dwell in such shelters. Even among these the more usual winter dwelling consists of walls of earth or stone and rafters of stone slabs or the large bones of animals.

One of the most familiar stories of Athenian history is that of Aristides and the peasant, says an article in a Boston paper. The ancient Athenians were just as human as any other people of later times, despite our tendency to regard them as supermen. Aristides, it will be remembered, was a great and good man whose policy was opposed to that of the brilliant and unscrupulous Themistocles,
The deadlock between the two leaders had to be broken by ostracism, which provided for the temporary banishment of the less popular leader. Just What Does Become of Millions of Needles? Life is full of little mysteries. Tons and tons of steel, for instance, are turned every year into razor blades, Blades are used and discarded by the million. Where do they go? And pins. About fifty years ago it was calculated that enough pins had been made in England to cover the whole surface of the land. Since then their manufacture has gone on at an in-creasing rate. They are bought and used and dropped—and they just disappear. Somehow you can understand a pin disappearing, for it is made of soft brass, which soon becomes cor-roded. But what about needles? Needles are made of very hard steel. Needles are made of very hard sector. They don't wear out and their business ends retain their sharpness almost indefinitely. Yet one firm in England has been manufacturing needles at the rate of three and a half william a week for many years, and millions a week for many years, and millions a week for many years, and for over two hundred years millions have been pouring out steadily from works at Redditch. Nowadays medern machinery enables one grinder to point 100,000 needles in a day. Every week Redditch sells enough needles to supply every man, woman, and child in the country with one apiece. Each of us loses on the average one needle a week throughout his or her needle a week throughout his or her life.

For more than three centuries the annual departure of the fishing fleet from the picturesque fishing port of

likely to be a terrifying experience.
Vessels were small, disaster and dis-Vessels were small, disaster and disease took frequent toll in human lives, and so the mariner made his peace with heaven before he set sail. To-day the devout fisherman follows the custom of his forefathers with peascustom of his forefathers with peasants grouped everywhere in native costumes watching the ceremony. His need is less, however, for hazards of the voyage are not so great as they were 300 years ago. Vessels are larger, and it was noted at a recent ceremony at St. Malo that a majority of the fishing craft had modern auxiliary mater nower to supplement their sail motor power to supplement their sail

Somehow or other many people have the erroneous idea that catarrh is more or less a chronic head cold. Such, however, is not the case. A catarral condition results when the nasal organ has to rid the body of various impurities and poisons that have ac-cumulated because some organ of elim-ination is not performing its task. In such case the mucous membrane of the nose is made to throw off the overflow of mucous or poison. Some common causes of catarrh are consti-pation, indigestion, lack of exercise and too much clothing. In the case of and too much clothing. In the case of the clothing the pores of the skin are not allowed to functions as they should and certain body poisons are not carried off. Too much sugar and starchy foods are also causes of caturrh. The proper way to treat the trouble is to find underlying cause and endeavor to correct it without paying too much attention to the nose and musous membrane.—Pahfinder Magazine.

FIRE RECORD

A lively blaze which caused damage estimated at about $5000 destroyed considerable equipment at the plant of the Highland Sand and Gravel Company off Wiswall lane, Oak Hill last Friday night. The place is far off the highway and difficult of access. Box 9 was pulled at 6:52 for the blaze which burned the engine room. Because of the distance from hydrants and low water pressure, the firemen attached suction hose to a small pond nearby. The cause of the fire is supposed to have been an over-heated salamander which ignited wood-work nearby.

salamander which ignited wood-work nearby.

The third incendiary fire within the past couple of years at the former property of the Boston Ice Company on Boylston street. Chestnut Hill was discovered at 9:23 Sunday night when the ruins of the old structure formerly used as a boarding house burst into flames following an explosion, supposedly of gasoline. The fire was seen by Augustino Signore of 369 Boylston street, who pulled Box 921. Two men were seen leaving the yard shortly before the flames were seen. Another incendiary fire sometime ago had partially burned the old building and the ice houses which had formerly been located nearby were also burned in an incendiary fire. The Newton firemen were assisted by the firemen from the Heath street house of the Brookline Fire Department.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER, D. A. R.

Mrs. Charles E. Beane, of 5 Pine Crest road, Newton Centre, opened her home on Tuesday, December 9, to the members and guests of Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., for the annual Christmas party for the benefit of disabled veterans. Assisting Mrs. Beane in receiving were: Mrs. Henry H. Wardwell, Mrs. Raymond W. Kent, Miss Edith McCann, Mrs. Richard A. Cody and Mrs. Charles G. Miller.

charge of Mrs. R. John Henderson, chairman of World War Service committee.

Mrs. John F. Osborn, state chairman of World War Service, was introduced, and in a very graphic way told of the work the Daughters of the American Revolution are doing in this state to help the boys in the different hospitals. As long as there is one disabled soldier, Mrs. Osborn said, there will be work to do, and this organization intends to carry on until the end. Mrs. Osborn told how the shop in Boston was started to dispose of articles made by the boys, and the work it is doing today. It not only brings the individual a monetary reward, but gives him more zest to live. While Mrs. Osborn stressed the need of these men, she begged that the families in our locality who are suffering this year as never before be not neglected. A vote of thanks was accorded Mrs. Osborn for her inspiring talk. The work of aiding the distabled and needy will be carried on with renewed effort. It was very fitting that an opportunity should be given to those present to purchase some of the beautiful articles which the veterans had made, hence a table in the sun room was used to display them, and a large assortment was quickly disposed of.

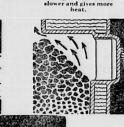

With Mrs. Charles G. Miller as accompanist, a group of songs was rendered very acceptably by a quartet of girls who have been trained by Mrs. Henderson for the purpose of entertaining the boys in the hospitals. Much credit is due Mrs. Henderson for the work she has done for disabled veterans in various hospitals.

Mrs. Henry H. Wardwell and Mrs. Charles E. Severance presided at the tea table, during the informal social hour which came at the close of the afternoon.

A Christmas sale was held on Monday, December 8th, and the regular meeting of the chapter took place in the afternoon at half past two. The Regent, Mrs. L. H. Howe, presided and Mrs. John W. Byers acted as Recording Secretary. Reports of the Regional Conference at Hotel Statler were given by Mrs. Howe and Mrs. W. D. Thompson. At this conference warning was given of the aggressive propaganda being carried on by the Communists in this country, who have sympathizers among the highly educated. Children are being taught revolutionary doctrines through songs written for that purpose and the influence on their young minds is a menace. A Christmas sale was held on Mon-

After the business session, three delightful Russian folk songs were sung by Mrs. John Merrill, in costume, soprano, accompaned by Mrs. George Brecher at the piano.

The speaker of the afternoon was the past year.

COMING EVENTS

Waban Woman's Club

Mr. Branson De Cou will present his "Dream Pictures of the Canadian Rockies" to the Waban Woman's Club, on Monday afternoon, December 15. Mr. De Cou's travelogues have been enjoyed by many people in and around Boston. Critics have said that his pictures were marvels of photography and color, and his talk delightfully informative without being statistical. With this, well selected music, beautifully synchronized with the pictures, has presented an entertainment justly called unique. Mrs. Austin G. Bourne, chairman of the Art committee, will have charge of the meeting, to which have been invited children of the Peabody Home and Members' daughters of High School age. Mrs. Frank Swenson will conduct the social hour, with Mrs. Vernon Durbin and Mrs. Robert J. Hamilton pourers at the tea table.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

On December 15 will be held the Annual Christmas Party of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club which always provides so much enjoyment, and a social hour with refreshments. Most important of all this is the time for the Soldiers' Stockings to be provided. It is hoped that Club members will realize the pleasure these stockings bring to the soldiers confined in hospitals, who gave so much that our future might be secure and happy.

The Children's Christmas Party which the Club gives each year is to be held on Tuesday afternoon, December 16, at 2:30 o'clock, in the Central Congregational Shurch. The Club will entertain sixty children, instead of the usual fifty, and Mrs. Edward P. Hendrick and her committee are making extensive plans for this merry occasion. There will be a Marionette Show, and Miss Jean L. Mardin brings her own puppets which she has made and costumed most delightfully. The Girl Scout Drum and Bugle Corps will entertain with their music. Toys, which were donated by the members and reconditioned by the local firemen during their spare time, are now ready and will be given to the invited guests at this party. Some of the club members with their daughters have made dresses for little girls, and dressed dolls, which will gladden many hearts. The Social committee, of which Mrs. A. William Krause is chairman, will serve refreshments. This is the first time in several years that the Club has planned, a party for the children of members, as well as for the invited guests, and it is hoped that many will participate to make this a real Merry Christmas Party.

The first of the series of Current Events Lectures by Grace Morrison

The first of the series of Current Events Lectures by Grace Morrison Poole, will be given on Thursday morning, December 18, at 10:15 o'clock, in the Central Congregational o'clock, in the Central Congregational Church. ONE THING AND ANOTHER we may expect to hear from various sources, official and otherwise, advice about the practice of economy in State and municipal affairs. There is no question but much of it will be sound and worth heeding. Let us hope however, it will not be focused upon the obvious but that some new ideas will be offered. If anything is distinctly wearisome it is the suggestion that there be no raises in official salaries regardless of merit and that no money be spent upon "frills", whatever that may mean.

Please do not think that I am about to urge the spending of the taxpayers' money upon any pet project of mine or appropriating it for the purpose of increasing the salaries of some friends in official life. My point is far from that. What I ask is that self-appointed watch-dogs of the treasury show some originality. If they will tell us of a new source of revenue or point out a new method of saving it will be worth more than repeating time-worn platitudes.

My belief is that there should always be a close guard of State and municipal expenditures but I have my misgivings of those who cannot see beyond that single objective. When we are too close-fisted as a people we are apt to become retrogressive. Things that should be done are put off from time to time and in the end a much-needed improvement is never accomplished. The ideal ways is to

Things that should be done are put off from time to time and in the end a much-needed improvement is never accomplished. The ideal way is to achieve progress along with economy. How can you save money and spend it, too, is your question? Ah, there you have a problem and one that can only be solved by study.

It has been clearly established that the greater number of people employed the greater amount of general prosperity. Seems almost like a riddle when you ask yourself, "How may hard times be made good and no one suffer?" Well, as I have tried to prove, the subject is worthy of the closest attention. I don't believe that just plain pinching of every penny will do it. Practical people and theorists should not come to grips over it, but should meet each other half-way. By this means, I believe, we may be able to advance instead of merely standing still.

was held December 1, 1926, and from that time forward the movement grew.

Through the generosity and thoughtfulness of our own fellow citizen, Mr. John R. Prescott, I have become possessor of a copy of this splendid volume. Along with the principal events that led to and followed the establishment of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, we find a history of the commercial, industrial and educational development. Incidentally, I might say that the publishers have wisely incorporated in the pages of this chronicle Mr. Prescott's writing of "Newton, 1630-1930," which the city has made available to us in pamphlet form. So, you see, Newton is admirably represented in a book that everybody, it seems to me, will find appealing and informative.

You will be delighted, as you pour over the artistically printed volume, to find things of which you may know something but not too much for you have learned all there is to be learned. It is with rare discrimination that the publishers and compilers, George D. Hill Company, Boston, have arranged this vast accumulation of data and presented it in narrative form. As is asserted in the foreward, "This book is a monument to three centuries of growth and development in the State of Massachusetts."

It's a game of see-saw this life of ours. One minute your up and the next minute your down—in your spirits, I mean. A friend of mine was invited by his boss to go to lunch. Naturally he was much set up. At the hotel they met a classmate of my friend. He was promptly introduced to the boss, but my friend, instead of going into details, referred to his employer as "Mr. Whools of the Suchandsuch Company."

NEWTON MAN VICTIM OF "HIT AND RUN" DRIVER

Irving Comey of 17 Oakland street,

Irving Comey of 17 Oakland street, Newton, an old and respected resident of this city, was hit and seriously injured last Saturday night by some dastardly automobile driver who extinguished the lights on the car and speeded away after hitting Mr. Comey. The victim of the road assassin received cuts on the head and face and body injuries. He was taken to his body injuries. He was taken to his home and has since been confined to his bed. Thomas Byrne of Oakland street, who saw the "accident" stated that the car was a Buick sedan.

Old Man Blank, who used to be somebody before a speeding train had amputated both his legs with more speed and less fuss than a great surgeon, had been reduced to the pencil and tin-cup type of beggary—and had found it profitable.

A week or two ago he enjoyed a particularly remunerative day. Nickels and dimes jingled into his tincup and his supply of pencils re-cup and his supply of pencils re-mained in his possession, which spelled about 100 per cent. profit for him. Anyone could see, as the afternoon wore to a close, that the Old Man was employer as "Mr. Whoois of the Suchandsuch Company."

The classmate was full of his own successes. Said he to my friend, "I'm making $150 a week and I expect a raise next year." Plainly he thought himself sitting pretty on top of the world. He did not know that my friend's employer was rated as the possessor of several millions. Turning to the boss, he inquired, patronizingly, "By the way, what's your job with the Suchandsuch Company?"

"I'm in the office," modestly replied the big chief and there the incident seems to have closed. But my friend is worried. He fears the boss will never ask him out to lunch again lest they bump into another bird who asks personal questions.

NEWYON MAN VICTIM OF "HIT wore to a close, that the Old Man was in good spirits and well pleased with the results of his day's solicitations. Even I was quite aware of his gratification at the receipts.

Walking down the street by him, however, I was only a little impressed by the sight of the man sitting on the ground with his wares. Just another racketeer, I thought to myself. Kind of tough he lost his legs, but really not much of my concern. The old duffer probably owned a block of apartments somewhere or other. The pickings are good for beggars, I've been told.

A Second Telephone on your present line

Here's real home convenience—a second telephone instrument, on an extension of your main line, right beside your bed. You can then use either the main telephone or the extension telephone—the one that's nearest.

Think of the steps you'll save whenever the telephone bell rings. And the quiet and seclusion you'll have telephoning from this bedside extension.

If you're living in an apartment this arrangement will eliminate an unsightly long cord. And you'll always know where the telephone is. If you're living in a single house, you'll never again have to rush way down stairs to answer the main telephone. The extension telephone will do just as well.

The monthly charge for this added home convenience ranges from 75c to $1.00, depending upon the class of service you have.

Your wife, mother, or sister will appreciate having a convenient extension telephone. It saves so much time and so many steps when the telephone bell rings.

For full information call the "Business Office" and ask for your service representative. Any operator will connect you with the Business Office quickly, without charge.

TRAFFIC ON WALNUT STREET

To the Editor:

Two or three weeks ago the Graphic had a very sensible editorial reference to traffic conditions on Walnut street, Newtonville. The subject might very well be elaborated. On no street in Newton, or in any other city, as far as I have observed, is the irresponsible motorist given such leeway to speed. This is a relatively narrow street, lined with parkers at its most congested points, as in front of the stores near the square, but apparently no attempt is made to hold motorists down to reasonable rates of speed. Night and day, at all hours, cars and trucks tear through Walnut street at from forty to fifty miles an hour, in many cases, and I often have seen two cars going at that rate within ten feet of each other, when a sudden checking in speed of the lead car inevitably would lead to an accident. Human life is recklessly endangered every day, dogs, of course, are given no chance for their lives, and frequently from my windows I have seen cars overturned or in collision through reckless driving; nor are the offenders always the youth of city, although "smart" boy drivers are frequent offenders.

The situation has become so menacing as to constitute a disgrace to the city, and I believe I represent the y The Newton and Lowell Senior Teams won one apiece last year and this should be a very fast and interesting game.

The following Newton Basketball players will probably see action at some time or other during the games: Seniors: Capt. Mahler, McDonald, Earle, Dunbrack, Joyce, McCarron, Barr, Bill Hammond, Perreault, Blanchard, White, and Keane. For the Intermediates: Benson. O'Neil, Patterson, Kasper, Clarke, Plenty, Dolbier, Herlihy, Bass, Stevens, Fontano, and Lane.

Two very closely contested swimming meets are expected when the local "Y" swimmers tackle the Lowell swimmers at the Newton pool. Capt. Kohler has done very well in his events during practice and should win quite a few points for Newton in the 40, 100, and Relay.

BIG RADIO INDUSTRY IN NEWTON

The new Eveready Raytheon factory at Newton is three and one-half times as large as the former plant at Cambridge and provides facilities for increasing the production of Eveready Raytheon tubes five fold.

The factory buildings are ideally situated splendidly built and present extraordinary working conditions, since they are located in a district which is principally residential. They are but a short distance from Waltham, "the watch city," where workers for "ears have been trained in the delicate and precise operations of watch making. Since the assembling of tubes is a somewhat similar operation, Raytheon already has found it possible to train new workers in tube manufacturing in a minimum time.

Automatic machinery is used in most of the processes employed in the manufacture of Eveready Ray theon tubes. This insures, particular ly in the case of the tubes most difficult to manufacture, a uniformity as well as a maximum production. Automatic exhausts, capable of exhausting tubes eight to ten times as rapid yas the hand exhausts, are another assurance of speed in manufacture. Special machines, exclusively designed for Raytheon, are used to wind grids, to press stems in the exclusive Eveready Raytheon 4-pillar form, to age the tubes before shipping, and in many other operations.

This ultra modern industry, which affords employment to several hundred persons, occupies buildings formerly owned and used by the Saxony Worsted Mills, for many years one of Newton's largest industries. For over 60 years, the Saxony Worsted Mills and its predecessor, the Nonantum Worsted Company employed hundreds in the Nonantum district. The decline of the textile industry and the resultant cessation of worsted yarn manufacturing at Nonantum was a severe blow to that district. It was a distinct advantage, therefore, when the National Carbon Company decided to move its radio tube factory from Cambridge to Newton. This company, with the tremendous financial re-

Is it Better to Own or Rent Your Home?

By EARL G. MANNING

This is the eighth in a series of practice known as placing a mortgage articles written by Mr. Manning, and deals with the much discussed question as to whether it is better to pay rent or own your own home.

This subject is a part of the dis-cussion which Mr. Manning is con-ducting before the Women's Clubs of Newton under the auspices of the Newton Trust Company.

EARL G. MANNING

The love of home and all that it tands for is deeply ingrained in almost every human being, who has had he advantage of living long enough nany community to have become an cive, or even passive, member in it. Love of native land is only second of this fundamental emotion.

It is not strange, then, that the desire is strong to have a little piece of this United States of ours, which we can call our very own, that we can plant, cultivate, putter around on, beautify, and on which we can live comfortably.

There is, however, a great difference, even though we do all these things, as to whether we just rent or own the property—and this is the subject that I wish to venture some we have had previous experience in renting, will admit that it is not cheaper to own than to pay rent, notwithstanding the statements to the contrary that we used to see in the papers, proposed by those more or less interested in selling property.

Nobody is fooled any more by that familiar advertisement which, thank goodness, does not appear very fre-quently nowadays— Why pay rent-own your own home

Why pay rent—own your own home."
All of us pay rent in some form. If t isn't to the owner of a house at so nuch a month, it may take the form of a certain amount for board and som in a private family, or in taxes on the home that we own, and then in didition to that a portion of our insome tax is diverted to the comnunity in which we live to keep up the streets and betterments necesary to insure good housing condiions.

The satisfaction of really owning a home unquestionably does appeal strongly to people who have the hom-ing instinct, as differentiated from the minority who are adventuresome and do not wish to be tied down, or to those who, by the very nature of their business, have to be moved periodi-cally from place to place.

cally from place to place.

I, personally, think that a man becomes a better citizen when he owns property. He takes a vital interest in the affairs of his community. He enters into its life, both social and economic, and can be depended upon to resist encroachments which sometimes affect the commonweal.

Yes I think it is a fine thing to own.

Yes, I think it is a fine thing to own your own home, but when bought it should be effected with due regard to the question of expense in proportion to the income.

Economists who have made this a subject of careful study have found that if this rule of thumb is observed, few pitfalls will be encountered;

The purchase price of a home should approximate the gross income for two years.

For example, if a family is enjoying an income of $5,000 a year, it ought to be able to carry on, reasonably, the expenses incident to the purchase of a $10,000 home.

It is rare that a family has the ntire purchase price of a home in and when the transaction takes lace. This situation developed the

They took it under advisement, in notified him that if he would give them a mortgage for this amount and pay them 6% interest on it monthly, he could have it.

They looked up the title in the registry of deeds to see if it was clear, with no liens, for which they charged him, I think, $50.00. This was done by their lawyer. Then they executed the mortgage.

This bank was once known as a Cooperative Bank, or as it is called in other sections of the country, a Building & Loan Association.

They issued to him sixty-five shares of their Association stock, representing a deposit which he agreed to make to them of $65.00 a month, one-half of which represented interest on the $6500 loan, and the other half principal, which, if he continued to pay it every month, would, equal, at compound interest, the amount of the mortgage at the end of about eleven years, and would cancel it, giving him his home free and clear.

He carried out his part of the program until he had accumulated enough in the principal accompanied by the inspiring music of "America" by the entire assembly accompanied by the inspiring music of the Newton High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Charles R. Spaulding.

The Band then rendered several stirring selections, which were greatly appreciated, after which Mrs. Braam an spoke a few words of welcome.

The following candidates for the Board of Aldermen and for the School Committee were then introduced, each candidate speaking for a period of three minutes: Mr. Henry W. Bail, of Newton Highlands, chairman of the School Committee; Mr. Richard Harte, of Chestnut Hill; Mr. George H. Tracy, of Newtonville, chairman of the School Committee; Mr. Herbert P. Important Change Made In Zoning Ordinance At Aldermanic Meeting

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen last Monday night the long leferred action by which most of the general residence zones in this city were changed to private residence zones was taken. As a result of this change apartment buildings cannot be erected except in few ureas in this city and the growing practice of real estate speculators suying large lots of land and cutting them up into a number of small lots as been checked.

Expect Work To Begin Within The Coming Year

On Tuesday evening a conference will be held between Mayor Weeks and the Board of Aldermen regarding the Boston to Worcester turnpike the Boston to Worcester turnpike which will follow the line of Boylston which will follow the line of Boylston street from the Brookline line at Chestnut Hill through Newton Centre, Newton Highlands and the Upper Falls to the Wellesley line at the Charles River. State officials were considering making a detour from the straight route along Boylston street at a point near Meredith avenue to Chestnut street, to avoid the steep grade. If this were done, a considerable number of houses would have to be removed and the expense to the City of Newton would be very large. Work on the western section of this new State Highway is well under way and it is probable that work on the section through this city will be in progress within another year.

Detailed Report of Committee of Newton Business Men Appointed To Make Study

A few months ago Mayor Weeks re-nested the Newton Business Asso-A few months ago Mayor Weeks requested the Newton Business Associates to submit suggestions for the use of the lot of land on Washington street, Newton Corner, formerly occupied by Engine 1 house. A committee was appointed by President Raiph M. Patterson of the Business Associates to consider this question. The committee comprised John C. Madden, chairman; Thomas H. Burns, Richard I. Dwyer, Andrew J. Ford and George L. White. Mr. Madden, a well known Newton attorney, was for 10 years a valued member of the Newton Board of Aldermen and is esteemed for his unselfish interest in Newton affairs. Mr. Burns is Vice President of the John T. Burns & Sons Real Estate Company, Mr. Dwyer is treasurer of the Garden City Garage, Mr. Ford is proprietor of the Ford Market and Mr. White is manager of the Newton branch of the Newton branch of the Newton trust Company. The Committee has studied the various proposals for using this lot and especially;

(1) To hold vacant for future usage.
(2) The sale of the lot for business purposes, such as a gasoline station:
(3) A Convenience Station;
(4) A terminal for busses entering and leaving Newton Square:

The Committee believes that if any use of this lot will relieve the present traffic situation in Newton Square, the advantages to be derived from such use would overshadow any amount of revenue that may be received from a sale of the lot.

The Committee believes that any convenience station that the City might see fit to construct on this lot would not require the entire area of the same, and that we should utilize every foot of this land for some pur-

The Committee that all busses be routed from interest through Peabody Street, Pearl Street, Centre Street and down Washington Street into this lot, there to discharge and receive all passengers, thence travel east along Washington Street, across Centre and over Centre Avenue to Washington Street.

I am 'nothing but' a seeker after In recent years it seems to be the custom to extend gossip of the football season well into December through the disclosure of some ineligible player being used during the scholastic season. Once again the same thing has happened although no championship is involved. Brookline announced to three of its rivals this week that a player had been used in its line-up against the three schools who it has since been found was ineligible to play under the Mass. rules. The three schools involved are Newton, Lynn Classical and Watertown. Principal Caverly of the Brookline school notified the principals of these schools of the occurrence by letter. Pericles Rozantes, a third string gnard, participated in the three games. Thomas Hines, director of physical education at Brookline, explained that in totalling up the credits to determine eligibility he had credited Rozantes with 14 points, giving him five points for typewriting, an unprepared subject. Such subjects entitle the student to only 2½ credits which would have brought the youth's total number to less than that required for eligibility. It is an extremely unfortunate happening as the youth is in his first year of football and was not sent into the line-up until the Wealthy Towners had the game safely tucked away.

Donald Enoch and Jeff Jones, Newton high coaches, were the local representatives at the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Coaches Association last week, Saturday, at Cambridge. John L. Among the important matters discussed were the limitation of high school football cames to 12 minute, periods and the piled on top of each other, would reach to the moon and back five times. One is reasonably sure that this spectacular piling feat would be impossible from every standpoint, but it pleases the imagination to picture that multiple pile of doughnuts. "What can you do?"

"Liust about ten feet," said the first.

"What can you do?"

"Eleven easily," was the reply. "What's your time for the half-mile?"

By now the other was a little suspicious.

"Five seconds better than yours," he said.

The Suburban league will hold a meeting Monday at which time it is expected that the football schedeule for next fall will be discussed at great length. and no school has applied for admission as yet.

Everett dropped out of the circuit principally for financial reasons. It wished to arrange better attractions than several of the present league members. After the withdrawal announced that they were looking for a Thanksgiving Day game to replace that with Cambridge Latin. Without much ado the Cantab officials stepped out and signed an agreemenet with Boston College High for a series of games, the latter being one of the few teams without traditional Turkey Day rivals in this part of the state. Now Everett finds itself without a game and without an opponent unless it can arrange to bring some team outside of the state or put on an intersectional contest.

RESCUES DOG FROM CULVERT

A female dog which had given birth to a litter of pups in a culvert off Winchester street, Newton Highlands was rescued Wednesday by Albert Stuart, mechanic of the Street Department, who went to the place after people residing in the neighborhood had discovered the plight of the animal. Stuart also found one of the puppies. There were seven pups in the litter, according to the report given by the persons who notified Mr. Stuart. It is supposed the other six pups perished.

leave to withdraw because these persons have entered legal suits against the city.

The claim of Mrs. A. H. Allen of Dedham street, Newton Highlands, who stumbled over a brush which was laid on a dirt pile on Walnut street, Newtonville, and the claim of Mrs. Edith Madden of Dale street, Newtonville, who fell when she stumbled on a depression in the sidewalk on Walnut street, Newtonville, got leave to withdraw. It was contended that there was no negligence on the city employee's part in Mrs. Allen's case and no person had appeared before the Claims committee to press the Madden claim. Margaret McCarthy of Old Colony road, Chestnut Hill asked damages because of a fall on an alleged defect on the surface of that road. The city contended that there was no defect on the street. The claim of the Thomas Dalby Company of Morse street, Watertown, for $900 damages was occasioned by the spoiling of a paint job on the factory building of this concern last September when dust from gravel and sand which was being dumped into Boyd Park gave an undesired stucco effect to the fresh paint. The city contended that the work on Boyd Park had started long before the Dalby Company commenced to paint its building, and that the work of grading the Park was performed by a contractor.

The Claims and Rules Committee reported leave to withdraw on the petition of Rose O'Donnell to have the lot of land at the corner of Washington and Craft streets, Newtonville, changed from general residence to business zone. Alderman Grebenstein reported that it is not legal to zone one lot of land. Leave to withdraw was also reported on the petitions of Julia Schwartz to have land on Washington street. Newtonville, between Lowell avenue and Brooks avenue changed from general residence to business zone. The reports of the committee were accepted by the Board.

Alderman Hawkins reporting as Chairman of the Licenses Committee, recommended granting the following restitions:

line.

Alderman Powers inquired if the manufacture of fireworks by the Masten & Wells Company at Needham street. Upper Falls, is not dangerous now because the surrounding district has been developed to a considerable degree. Alderman Temperley of the Upper Falls assured the Ward 1 alderman that there is little chance of anyone being seriously injured at the fireworks plant as the activities there consist more of testing fireworks rather than manufacturing them, and that if any explosion might occur it would probably be limited to just whichever of the small buildings in which it occurred.

The Licenses Committee reported adversely on the petitions of Thomas

Malloy for a gasoline filling station at 100 Needham street; Percy Kiigman for a filling station permit at 456 Watertown street. Newtonville; John J. Powers, Jr., for a permit to conduct a poolroom at 1244 Washington street, West Newton. Alderman Hawkins explained that Malloy has a lunch room on the small lot on which he desires a filling station, thus leaving insufficient room for the wanted station. Kligman's father was granted a permit last year to build a filling station and individual garages and does not see fit to take advantage of this permit. The Chief of Police does not favor the proposed new pool room at West Newton.

The proposed amendment to the Zoning Ordinance which would change the Free Library property on Centre the Free Library property on Centre street, Newton and part of Vernon Court from general residence to business zone, was held in committee pending further conference with the Planning Board.

A traffic regulation was passed which forbids automobiles being turned around on Sumner street, Newton Centre between Langley road and Willow street. This will prevent fire apparatus being blocked.

Appropriations made by the Aldermen included the following: Street Department, roadside trimming on Winchester, Dedham, Greenwood, Nahanton and other streets at Oak Hill, $1000; Water Department, water mains, $2275; pumping station expenses, $5000; service maintenance, $4500; land damages for taking of land for new playground in Cold Spring section at Newton Highlands, Haynes & Hernandez, $3900, heirs of James W. French, $200, Lucy F. King, $1900, Elizabeth Porter, $1900. For the expense of moving the offices of the Public Buildings Department and the Mayor's Unemployment Relief Committee, $500 were appropriated. The Public Welfare Department was allowed $2500 additional for outside aid.

The amount of $48,444.90 was appropriated to construct a concrete cultivert for the drain which runs from Rowe street to Cheese Cake brook, and to lay in connection with this in culvert a 24 inch pipe drain from Dolan brook and a 15 inch pipe from the Murray road drain. Alderman Bremperley inquired why only three Newton contractors had been invited to submit bids on this contract. He stated that there is some feeling on the part of another contractor who calamed he could do this work for a less amount than the lowest bidder. Aldermen Bail, chairman of Finance. Committee replied that the matter of selecting contractors is an executive function, that the Mayor has the right to select bidders, that three reliable Newton contractors were invited to bid on this contract, the low bid, $43,000, is believed to be a very favorable contract to the city and the bidder is a reliable contractor who will employ only Newton men and thus relieve the unemployment situation. The balance of the appropriation is for incidental engineering expenses. The three firms asked to bid on this contract were the John McDonald Construction Company, Richard White & Sons, T. Stuart & Son. The McDonald Company was the lowest bidder. This appropriation was unanimously passed by the Aldermen.

A NEW BUS TERMINAL

The report of the committee of Newton Corner Business Men regarding a relief from congested conditions, the use of the site of the old fire house and adjoining land for a new bus terminal, and the necessity of a convenience station in this section is well worth the attention of everyone. A TRAVESTY ON JUSTICE

Yesterday morning a Middlesex jury acquitted four defendants on charges of assault upon a Newton police officer. The presiding judge and the district attornéy are not alone in their criticism of this action. Every rightminded citizen of the county deplores this travesty on justice. It is an added argument for a revision of our present jury system which has most alone in recent years. woefully broken down in recent years.

A COMMUNITY ASSET

In a preceding editorial we mentioned the Newton Corner In a preceding editorial we mentioned the Newton Corner Business Associates, an organization composed of businessmen at Newton Corner. Last evening the annual election of officers of this body was held. It is worthy of note that the president and vice-presidents who were elected are all retail merchants. The association is to be congratulated on this step. The business section of any community depends largely upon cooperative effort among its retail merchants. The Associates have accomplished much toward the improvement of Newton Corner in the four years of its existence and is an asset to the community.

The Newton Graphic wishes everyone a Merry Christmas.

themselves.

Our beautiful new hospital would be crowded with charity patients. This hospital was built and is maintained by the benevolent citizens of Newton and Wellesley, and the financial burden would fall on them and others. Disabled or sick persons would have to be cared for by public or private charity, and the tax rate in Newton would be substantially increased.

in Newton would be substantially increased.

A meeting of citizens of the neighborhood was held Sunday, December 14, 1930 at the residence of Professor Louis H. Young of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who lives very near the site of the proposed nuisance. Four of our aldermen were present and also a representative of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, who set forth his views on the project and answered some questions. This is the same gas company that attempted to erect an enormous illuminating gas tank in this vicinity a short time ago. A resident of Grove street disclosed the fact that on Nov. 14, 1927 in Pittsburg, Pa., an illuminating gas tank exploded, killing 28 persons. The property damage was not very great because, as is usually the case, the tank was located in a poor district. poor district.

I am certain that this attempt to reate a slum district in Newton could be bitterly resented and be met with unanimous opposition by the people of Newton if they realized the far-reaching disastrous consequences of this monstrous proposal.

Auburndale, Mass. WHY?

To The Editor:

Recent reference has been made by indignant citizens to the dangerously congested traffic conditions in Newtonville Square where speeding automobiles along Walnut street constitute a menace to life and property. It is complained that no effort is being made to improve the situation but whether or not this is true there still remains an aspect of the case which may have escaped the attention of your correspondents. Not long ago the state-wide traffic which follows route 128 was deflected from its former course and re-routed through Newtonville Square via Crafts and Walnut streets — thoroughfares which even prior to this change were crowded to capacity. Efforts to learn the reason for such change have met with no success although there is a ruimor that it was dictated by personal reasons. Whatever the cause, or by whomsoever instigated, the unnecessary routing of out of town and out of state traffic through the jam of Walnut street would seem to merit at least an attempt at explanation To The Editor: of Walnut street would seem to merit at least an attempt at explanation by those in authority. The Santa Fe trail or portions of it, must have known the sweep of more than one ancient migration before Coronado's day—perhaps debefore Coronado's day—perhaps descending from the North, perhaps coming up out of the crowded old civilizations of the South—but its known history began with Coronado.

And what a history it was through more than 300 years! It was the first of the great beaten tracks which joined the American East and West. It never approached in populousness those later northern routes that went those later northern routes that wen from the Mississippi to Oregon and California, nor was its traffic notable for the riches carried. Conventional Idea of Lightning Found Wrong At a meeting of the British Asso-ciation for the Advancement of Science in 1856 the Scottish engineer, James Nasmyth, son of a landscape painter, stated that "in no instance among the many thunderstorms whose progress he had most attentively watched had he ever observed such forms of lightning as that usually represented in works of art; in all such the artists invariably adopt a conventional form, namely, that of a zigzag combination of straight lines."

Nasmyth believed the error of the artists originated in the form given to the thunderbolt in the hand of Zeus as sculptured by the ancient Greeks.

Some decades after these remarks were uttered the photography of lightning began to be common, and the photographs all showed that he was right in believing that lightning is never truly zigzag. Its path generally includes many sinuous curves, and it often branches, but a sharp angle is very rarely seen in a photo-graph, and it is then doubtless an effect of perspective.—Charles F. Talman in "Why the Weather."

It is within the experience of almost every one to encounter bad luck within seven years, whether or not one breaks a mirror, spills salt or walks under a ladder. Such beliefs are pure superstition. Brand's Observations on Popular Antiquities says about the matter: "Mirrors were used by magicians in their diabolical ex-periments, and in ancient times was practiced a kind of divination by the looking glass; whence, it should seem has been derived the present popular notion, according to which the break ing of a looking-glass is accounted ost unlucky accident, being omi nous of the loss of his best friend by the preson to whom it belongs. Big Ben's Message Now Heard in Many Lands

Heard in Many Lands
London's most famous clock, Big Ben, which ticks off the hours in the tower above the house of commons, and whose bells have been heard in remote parts of the globe through the instrumentality of the microphone, gives "wise counsel" to at least one well-known Briton, Sir Duncan Grey, traveler and writer.

As Sir Duncan puts it, "Bells by some trickery of our cheating senses says to us what we are actually saying

During the World war Big Ben was silenced and was never illuminated, for it was feared that through sound and light it would give accurate di-rection to the German air raiders.

On still and clear nights it is often possible to hear the resounding that of the hammers on its bells a distance of eight miles or more.

For most night owls the message its bells convey at 12 midnight is the fear that the last street car or omnibus has departed and that a costly journey in a taxicab will be one at least of the disadvantages of such belated peregri-nation homeward.—New York Sun.

Followed Indian Trails

Over the Appalachians Over the Appalachians
A century after the first settlements were established it was evident that the future of the country depended upon overcoming the barrier of the Appalachian mountains and the great forests which clothed them. New colonists pushed inland along the rivers and later struck into the mighty forests from the head of paylrivers and later struck into the mighty forests from the head of navigation. They followed the Indian trails which they found and these trails came into general use. Thus Nemacolin's path which Washington followed on his mission to the French (1754) was the forerunner of Braddock's trail (1755) and the national road. The Kittanning nath up the road. The Kittanning path up the Juniata to the Allegheny furnished the route of Forbes' trail (1758). The Warrior's path from the Shenandoah valley through the Cumberland gap to the falls of the Ohio became Boone's wilderness road (1769) over which Kentucky was settled, and the Iro-quois trail from Albany to Lake Erie developed into the Great Genesee

"Respectfully Yours"

That fine old custom of saying grace before and after meals leads Estelle H. Ries in her fascinating book "Mother Wit" to recall the ingenuity of the traveling salsman who, as the dinner guest at a buyer's home, was asked to say grace. Being unaccustomed to the practice of this ceremony, he could but do his best.

"Dear Lord," he began, "we are in receipt of your kind favors of recent date and beg to thank you. We hope to merit your continued courtesy."— Kansas City Times.

Interesting Old Castle

Lumber castle, near Chesterle-Street, England, it is thought, can establish its claim to be the oldest inhabited castle in the two counties of Nor-thumberland and Durham, says an article in the Montreal Family Herald. It was originally built as a manor house about 933, and continued as such for about four centuries. In the Fourteenth century Sir Ralph Lumley had the castle remodeled by building the four corner towers or keeps and connecting the buildings on all sides but the west. The castle has been in continuous occupation of the Lumley family ever since its original erection in the days of the Saxon kings.

Not Adapted to English No less than eight Hebrew words are translated river in our English Bible. All have differing shades of meaning, ranging from watercourses only occasionally bearing water (Nachal), to rivers likely at times to be in overflow flood (Zeor). These delicate degrees of meaning are incapable of being reproduced in our more prosaic language.

The Candidate

In ancient Rome during political campaigns, it was customary for persons seeking office to appear in public places wearing white togas, and the white of the natural wool was brightened with chalk. The Latin word for white is candidus. An office seeker was called candidatus, from which comes our word candidate.

CHRISTMAS

Someway this year, with the knowledge that suffering and want, unemployment and deprivation are so close to our midst, the greeting Merry Christmas sounds empty and mocking. The gladness, the joy of the call, the carefree mind and heart that gives it being, are missing. The greeting can be changed, however, to Happy Christmas, and Clubwomen by thought and consideration of needs can make it so for many around them. By searching out those whom they can help by gifts of clothing, food, Christmas baskets, and money, if possible, practical gifts that will lighten burdens of worried households, they can bring to their own minds and hearts in place of the joy of carefree thought, the peace and content of thought of others.

The appeal from the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs for gifts of clothing, and of service, which has been promised by that organization in assistance of the Welfare Bureau and of the Mayor can be heeded by all Clubwomen. But more, they can look about and find for themselves, perhaps where little suspected, because for the first time deprivation is entering some home, and pride is keeping it secret, avenues of aid which may not be reached otherwise. So may be made this Christmas Day one upon which the greeting Happy Christmas may be most truthfully said!

Shakespeare Club

A Shakespeare Club

A Shakespearean Character Party is the delightful program for the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands on Saturday afternoon, December 20, when Mrs. James F. Cooper opens her home, 2 Kingston road, for the event. To the interesting accompaniment of music of the Elizabethan period, with songs of Shakespeare's plays, and the Morris Dance and Shepherd's Dance from Henry VIII, members will arrive as Benedict and Beatrice, Romeo and Juliet, Viola, Lady Macbeth, Queen Katherine, the Witches, and many others of the "personages" that have become so close to the hearts and minds of these students of the great dramatist through the Club's years. Not only will these characters of Shakespear's come to life in person and in costume, but they will speak the mighty words of their experience, as written for them, such as Hamlet's Soliloquy. The journey into Shakespeare's land and days promises a rare treat.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

A Creche Exhibit sponsored by the Art committee, of which Mrs. Alexander G. Caldwell is chairman, will be held at the Workshop of the Woman's Club, Columbus street, Newton Highlands, on Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, December 21, 22, and 23, from 2 o'clock until 5 in the afternoon. Tea will be served on Sunday afternoon. All who have not seen this most interesting and artistic exhibit in past years should make every effort to do so this year. They are especially invited to bring the children.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Members of the Newtonville Woman's Club and others interested are notified that the Contract Bridge Course has been postponed until after Christmas. Anyone interested in joining may obtain information by telephoning to Mrs. A. William Krause, Newton North 1297.

It is of great interest to her fellow members of the Club to learn that at the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Federation of Garden Clubs Mrs. Arthur W. Church of the Newtonville Woman's Club received third prize for table decorations.

The Social Science Club omits its usual weekly meeting of Wednesday, on Dec. 24, due to Christmas holidays.

The Social Service committee, of which Mrs. Clarence W. Randlett is chairman and Mrs. William B. RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

The Newton Community Club was hostess on Thursday, December 11, to the Twelfth District for a Legislative Conference, at which time Mrs. Horace B. Gale, District director, presided. Mrs. Gale presented Mrs. Henry P. Curtiss, president of the Club, who greeted and cordially welcomed those present. Mrs. Gale called next upon Mrs. Frank Bennett, first vice-president of the State Federation, who made brief remarks, and who was followed by Mrs. Samuel Braman, president of the Newton Federation, who made an appeal that all in Newton should keep in mind, the work which the Newton Federation is starting, to assist the Mayor and his Committee through the Newton Welfare Bureau, in the distribution of clothing in aiding the unemployed. She also reminded all of the Christmas Seal appeal.

Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis, the Newton Community Club Legislative chairman, was then called upon, and spoke briefly of her committee's activities.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Frederick E. Judd, who spoke of Legislation as Government in the making. Mrs. Judd called upon Committee's activities.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Frederick E. Judd, who spoke of Legislative chairman, was then called upon committeewoman Ethel M. Johnson who gave a "Resumé of the Legislative Forecast" for the next session. She showed that there was a trend toward social and child welfare problems on the program, and Labor Bills due to labor troubles, and the serious unemployment conditions. Two other bills of interest to women are on the schedule, one—an old friend—making women eligible for jury service, and the other concerning the employment of women who are married.

The next speaker was Dr. Leila O. Burbank, representing Dr. William Bigelow, who spoke on two important measures: the first, making it necessary to have all milk either pasteurized, or the cattle tuberculin-tested; the second, a request for a large sum of money to establish a hospital to provide for diagnosis and treatment of the many thousands afflicted with thronic rheumati and of setting of one of the southern strikes.

At the close of the afternoon Mrs. Curtiss, president of the Club, invited all to remain for a social meeting and to enjoy a cup of tea.

One of Shakesneare's plays, "As You Like It." being the subject for the morning, Mrs. Arthur F. Farlev delighted the Club by singing two Shakesnearean sones, "Who Its S"blue" from the "Two Centlemen of Verona." and "Hark! Hark! the Lark at Heaven's Gate Sings," from "Cymbeline."

An introduction and brief resume of the play was read by Mrs. Franklin 6. Leland, followed by readings from the text by members of the Club: the cast being Mrs. Arthur C. Farley, Mrs.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The members and their children, together with the sixty invited guests, enjoyed the Children's Christmas Party of the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday, December 16, at the Central Congregational Church.

The entertainment began with a bugle solo, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," by Robert Adams of the Boy Scout Drum and Bugle Corps. The little girls in costume, Pauline Kepple, Marjorie Gilbert and Cynthia Southworth, gave an interpretive dance, "A Chinese Love Story." This dance was coached by Mrs. John Gilbert, who was also the accompanist. The audience, both Club members and children, enjoyed Miss Jeanne L. Mardin's marionettes. The puppet show was the story of Peter Rabbit, which offered many laughs for the children, who are all familiar with the pranks of the naughty Peter. Then followed a Clown Dance, which displayed Miss Mardin's very clever manipulations of the puppets. At the close of this entertainment the children were treated to ice cream and cake. Santa Claus then made his appearance, and gave each one of the invited guests a present. The girls received a doil, which had been dressed by a daughter of a Club member while each boy was made happy with one of the toys which the firemen had reconditioned. This very successful party was made possible by the untiring efforts of Mrs. Edward P. Hendrick and her committee. The task of transporting the children to and from the party was supervised by Mrs. Guy F. Bauer who deserves great praise for the very able and efficient way that this problem was conducted. Mrs. A. My two main sources of supply of nourishment are light and water. It is impossible for my producer to tell you how often to give me water, the dryness of the atmosphere, amount of sun and ventilation, must be considered, together with my health and vigor. Never allow me to stand in water more than twenty minutes.

When the soil has dried beneath me so that it is friable or crumbly to the touch, it is time to water me, sufficiently to give all my mouths a drink. I must get my concentrated food in soluble condition which is another reason for extreme care in watering me.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The death of Allen Hubbard on Sun-day, December 14, recalls to older resi-dents of Newton the valuable service performed by Mr. Hubbard and other performed by Mr. Hubbard and other Newton young men two score years ago in fostering amateur athletics in this city. Mr. Hubbard, who was born in Westfield in 1860 was a star base-ball player at Yale before he gradu-ated from that college in 1883. He continued his interest in the game and when he hecame a resident of Newton

The boosting of Congressman Charles Underhill for the office of postmaster at Boston and the declination of Mr. Underhill to consider such an appointment again brings to mind the fact that no other big business is conducted in such an impracticable way as is the United States Postoffice Department. This very vital factor in our economic and social life will never reach proper efficiency until the practice of choosing its executives because of political pull rather than practical experience is abandoned. Recognizing this fact, Col. Charles R. Gow, who has been the official postmaster at Boston for the past couple of years, has been endeavoring to bring out the appointment of Assistant Postmaster William E. Hurley, a veteran postal employee, who has been acting postmaster. Mr. Hurley certainly is qualified by experience.

The Christmas

Season In Bethlehem

As Experienced Years Ago By a Native of the Holy Land

By Anton Hanania

Seven thousand mines across the Atlantic lies Palestine, the country in which were transacted many important events. It is a small territory on the western border of Asia, fronting the Mediterranean.

Once more as the Christmas Season held. There was a restuit teams this lowly birthplace of the Kings.

Church bells broke the silence of the night—a summons to the after-midnight services and observance of Holy Communion in commemoration of the birth of the Christ child celebrated by young and old.

Priests went about the village accompanied by a boy bearing a vessel of holy water, visiting each home in their districts and blessing house and household. He sprinkled each room with the water, each person kissed the cross he carried and received his benediction. Thus each home was sanctified for the coming year.

By following a lane southeast from the Church of the Nativity we reach the brow of a hill from which we get a good view of the Shepherds' Fields, and nearby the Field of Boaz both reposing in the valley far below. We think of Ruth gleaning in these fields and of David tending and defending his father's sheep, and the shepherds of long ago who were watching their flocks by night when the heavenly glory shone around and in their ears sounded the tidings of the birth of Christ, followed by the angelic chorus of "Glory to God in the Highest, on Earth peace, good will towards men."

three car trains now travelling on the Elevated tracks during rush hours, thereby obstructing the view of motorists along that entire street, would create a further traffic hazard and be a step backward to compel persons travelling to or from the theatre, depot, or shopping on the theatre, depot, or shopping on the south side of the track to travel all the vay Through the square and down Washington Street to this proposed buss stop.

The Committee finds that the lot itself because of its size and topography is not adapted for the turning of more than one buss inside the sidewalk line. This would necessitate the parking of succeeding busses on Washington Street or else the backing out of busses into Washington Street, if more than one should attempt to load and unload passengers at the same time. The staggering of the running time of the busses would hardly insure clearing of the lot in time for each buss.

The Committee also considered the conduct of Convenience Stations by private semi-public enterprises, such as car stations, common victuallers, and such as the point of Convenience Stations by private semi-public enterprises, such as car stations, common victuallers, and causing a minimum of hard point and at the same time give Newton Corner a new artery of travelers, and at the same time give Newton Corner a new artery of travelers, and at the same time give Newton Corner a new artery of travelers, and at the same time give Newton Corner a new artery of travelers, and at the same time give Newton Corner a new artery of travelers, and at the same time give Newton Corner a new artery of travelers, and at the same time give newton care and exits, and thereby relive the square from the number of vehicles using this termina the for each buss.

The Committee recommends that a street be laid out over the lot from Centre Street to Washington Street parallel with the Boston & Albany Railroad, and for that purpose the gine House lot comprising the land and buildings of Frederick A. Hawkins, the lot of vacant land in the rear of the Whitman Building, owned by the Taylor Estate, all this land to be used for a street for busses and also parking wherever possible, and at the foot strip off the southerly side of the Bachrach Block, formerly the Sumner Block, total land so to be taken approximating 17,000 square feet all as shown on plan attached prepared by E. S. Smille dated November 1930; that arrangements be made with the Boston & Albany Railroad for the construction of a concrete sidewalk on the nine foot strip of land lying between the abutument and the property line from the Centre Street bridge to the Washington Street bridge, that all busses be routed through Hall Street across Gentre Street through this new passageway along the new sidewalk on the Boston & Albany land and there discharge and receive all passengers; that transfer scan thence be made to the Boston & Albany land and there discharge and receive all passengers; that transfers can thence be made to the Boston & Albany land and there discharge and receive all passengers; that transfers can thence be made to the Boston & Albany land and there discharge and receive all passengers; that transfers can thence be made to the Boston & Albany depot at the Centre Street, no parking to be permitted within one hundred twenty-five feet of Centre Street, and no vehicle to travel thereon at a greater speed than five miles per hour.

This transfer point for buss passengers will be equidistant from the Boston & Albany depot at the Centre Street, and no vehicle to travel thereon at a greater speed than five miles per hour.

This transfer point for buss passengers will be equidistant from the Boston & Street bridge to the Boston & Street bridge to the Boston & Street bridge to the Boston & district of Newton Corner.

The advantage of this location with two exits and entrances on Centre Street, one to be opened at the Centre Street bridge and the other now existing six foot passage way between the Whitman Block and the Public Market Building, and the wide exit on Washington Street will give Newton Corner a buss terminal with facilities for handling and distributing the crowds from theatres, depot and trolleys, second to none in any nearby city or town, thereby relieving the conditions in the square and furnishing added space for parking.

The Board of Health of Newton at its last meeting voted to recommend a Public Convenience Station at Newton Corner, in the interests of Public Health as well as Public Convenience.

The Committee has hesitated to saddle an annual burden of $7000.00 upon, the taxpayers, but it finds that there is a public demand and existing necessity for such a station in Newton Square, and it recommends that the small triangle of land on the Engine House Lot not required for a street as proposed, be utilized for the erection of such a station. If it was found advisable to erect a shelter for buss passengers in the proposed terminal, this convenience station might be made a part of the same.

existing six foot passage way between the Whitman Block and the Public Market Building, and the wide exit on Washington Street will give Newton Corner a buss terminal with facilities for handling and distributing the crowds from theatres, depot and trolleys, second to none in any nearby city or town, thereby relieving the conditions in the square and furnishing added space for parking.

Members of the Board of Aldermen who have studded traffic conditions in Newton Square have suggested the construction of a street forty feet wide through this Sumner Block land to Washington Street.

This proposed taking would cost the City about $200,000.00 for land damages, and the Committee would not recommend an expenditure of that amount, imitating the wisdom of the Board of Aldermen of 1927 which would appropriate the sum of $100,000.00 to widen the corner of the former French Block at the Corner of Washington and Centre streets.

The proposed taking of ten feet off the Sumner Block and the vacant loin the rear, also the Hawkins land, will cost approximately $50,000.00 to $600.00 to $

NEWTON LAWYER DISBARRED

In the Supreme Judicial Court at Boston last Saturday, Judge Sanderson ordered the disbarment of Joseph Conti, a lawyer who has resided at 53 Riverside street, Watertown, and who maintained an office at 392 Centre street, Newton. The disbarment petition was entered by the Middlesex County Bar Association, and Hugh D. McLellan prosecuted. The complaint stated that on February 12, 1929, Jennie Guthrie of Cambridge gave Conti a check for $1634.07 payable to his order for the purpose of discharging two mortgages. Conti was charged with having discharged one of the mortgages, and keeping the balance of $917.37, closing his office at Waltham and going to New Jersey in April, 1929. He was also charged with wrong transactions in the cases of two Waltham clients. Conti was admitted to the bar on November 16, 1927.

"Snowball" and "Hippy", barked their enthusiastic approval. They had been waiting for somebody to open the back door with, "Come on, fellars".

John, ten years old, thought well of he idea, too. He volunteered to be ur guide. Bill and I thanked him. Ve had some matters of business to alk over and why not the Brookfield fills on a mild day in December.

We had not counted on John and never supposed "Circero" and "Sandy" would unbend their collie dignity, that "Hippy" would show so little police dog suspicion of strangers and "Snow-ball" control his Spitz animation long enough—but we didn't know how friendly John and Aunt Louise's dogs

woodchuck holes, and—"
"Great, John", said Bill, "show us everything."
From the road it would appear that Aunt Louise's farm was another of those hospitable New England hillside places that have filled hearts and memories of many generations. But under the guidance of John it is far more. On the summit, for instance, is John's rock. He named it for himself the day he discovered it. John led the way to the crown. Bill followed and I with less grace and agility, managed to make it. The dogs decided to share the view, for the rock projects from a point below the hill-top and an experienced jumper, two or four-footed, has no difficulty.

John knew things about the field and pasture that I daresay Aunt Louise had never learned. He took us to the edge of the brook and around another path where we might view the haystack.

Twenty feet high and fully that in diameter, it rose alone in the field as a reminder of Summer. The man who had said he would buy it never came back. Hard times and not much ready cash, probably.

John thought Bill and I should mount the stack. He said it was the softest place you ever knew and you could have a great slide to the ground. Bill, a yachtsman in his spare days, made the top by a combination of leaping and climbing. John needed only a boost from me. I stood aside, pleaded old age. John laughed, said if I'd only try he knew I could make it and then I could tell the people in Boston I had climbed a haystack. I vielded and by grabbing Bill's dangling left leg as if it were a life-line I got there.

Of the dogs, "Snowball" was the only one to mount the stack. He gling left leg as if it were a life-line I got there.

Of the dogs, "Snowball" was the only one to mount the stack. He seemed to trot straight up. It seemed no effort. "Hippy" jumped and barked and would like to have attempted it; "Circero" and "Sandy" sat pretty at the bottom and waited fifteen minutes until we decided to slide down. There are still tiny wisps of straw on my overcoat.

Bill and I, by clasping our own and Bill and I, by clasping our own and each other's wrists, made an "arm-chair" for John and he laughed as we carried him back. He got down to show us the poultry yard. Then he wanted to know if we wouldn't like to climb the henhouse roof. The old excuse, "It's getting late" was invoked with success.

exact, it hasn't come, but it's on its way. I mean the much discussed reform in men's clothing. The Association of Clothing Designers of America fired the opening barrage in the war for reformation in masculine apparel at their meeting in New York recently. From now on anything can happen.

Take a look at this for a "lay-out" for the well dressed man, 1931 model. Fawn colored suit with a heliotrope lining of silk, puff sleeves, wide trousers with pleats at the waist, puff sleeves and a light green overcoat with yellow silk lining. Now, isn't that going to be something for next year's Easter parade down Centre street?

street?
You bet it is, and that isn't all either. Waists are going up next year too, way up to a point not very far from the arm pits. Just how are the clothing designers going to arrange the location of that ancient and valuable accessory referred to as "pant's able accessory referred to as "pant's pockets"? If the waist line is set in the vicinity of the top of where a man's vest is now located, I fear that there will be grave danger of breaking one's arm when reaching suddenly for a kerchief to suppress a sneeze.

If you don't think that is right, just

If you don't think that is right, just stand up right now and try to stick your hand, palm to your body, inside the arm-hole of your vest.

The clothing designers say "puff" sleeves. Of course there's no way of telling just how far they will carry that particular threat, but it so happens that such a style in sleeves would have certain advantages. Take for instance the man who is given to going about with his sleeves rolled up. Puff sleeves would completely conceal that tell-tale bulge which now spoils a man's appearance when he puts his coat on over rolled-up sleeves. It is also possible that such sleeves would provide a certain amount of storage space for the transportation of a commodity which law enforcement officers can't make up their minds is legally transportable or not.

Coats are to be belted too in '31, the designers state. Upon this subject. I refrain from comment until I learn for a collar.

Personally I can't see much advantage in the projected changes. Of course some persons may approve. I wouldn't hesitate to say that if the designers went so far as to advocate a return of the Roman toga they would find some supporters. The rank and file of citizens are not likely to be amenable to such a startling array of colors, however, in my opinion, and I strongly doubt whether masculine America will permit any group of stylists to take such liberties with the good old male waist-line.

It would seem that the fashion set-the good old male waist-line.

It would seem that the fashion setters, having failed in their effort to reduce womankind to a state of semi-nudity, are beginning to campaign against us males. But will we stand for it? Will we surrender our masculine prerogative to look as conventionally dull and un-beautiful as possible? Will we men stand for having a bunch of New York suit and cloakers telling us what we will put upon our backs? Will we?

Well, maybe you're right!

Of course it would be desirable o have our ballot questions simplified. The State election, with its perplexing (at least to some of us) questions about the proposed amendment of the constitution, the liquor law, anti-steel trap and the Boston Elevated plans 1, 2 and 3, is still fresh in our minds and we agree unhesitatingly with Senator Bacon, the president of the State Senate, in his efforts to clarify these matters. hese matters.

these matters.

It is a strange thing about questions. When one is propounded orally and not readily comprehended we immediately ask, "Will you please repeat that?" But when it is printed on an election ballot we cannot turn to one better informed. We must wrestle with the conundrum by ourselves. As if the question of selecting candidates was not sufficiently difficult we must cudgel our brains for wise decisions on matters of legislation.

Most of this has come about

Most of this has come about through the operation of the initiative and referendum amendment to the State constitution which was attached as a result of the Constitutional Convention of 1917 and 1918. tached as a result of the Constitutional Convention of 1917 and 1918. If you are of voting age and 10 years or so older you will recall there was opposition to the initiative and referendum. People, some of them the best known citizens of Newton, said it would surely lead to complications. And they were sound in their prophesy. I remember how hard it was to get people to enunciate during the convention, "Initiative and Referendum". In consequence it was almost invariably referred to as the "I. & R.", which made it sound like the nick-name of the railroad. That, of course, did not refer to the method amployed to put it through convention, although some may disagree with me. Now we have the initiative and referendum and are almost ready to admit that we don't quifte understand it. Let us not, with all the plans for Christmas in our minds, go into anything as brain-taxing as that. But I would like to say that one way to overcome the difficulty of the questions asked is not to ask them. Let the Legislature, after it has simplified the method of putting problems up to the voters, lay-off for a time the compiling of such questions. We'd understand that without difficulty.

A good deal is printed in the form of warnings about the giving of charity. We are continually reminded of our credulity and lack of judgment

NEWTON WOMAN'S COTTAGE LOOTED

Mrs. C. L. Harrison of 2 Washington street, Newton, discovered on December 13th that her summer home at Wareham had been entered and loot-ded. Among the articles stolen from the house was a Persian rug valued at $10,000. Other things stolen included three smaller rugs, mirrors and a valuable antique painting. The caretaker at the Wareham estate noticed tracks of automobile tires on the morning the burglary was discovered, but it is not known when the break took place.

That Strange Death. Japan's Mighty Growth. Are Women Brave? Another War? Unberufen.

Mysterious death, carried by the fog and killing scores in Belgium, worries the British. Reassuring words, to the effect that it only injured those that were already ill, or very old, are not convincing.

In Yor! thire, near Grosmount, ten cattle are found mysteriously dead in the fog, with symptoms that look much like those of the Belgian death fog, which also killed cattle.

Could it be (one guess is as good as another) that the recent shower of meteorites brought with it, from distant space, some poisonous substance that, reduced to powder by contact with the atmosphere, floats about in the fog, and is carried into the lungs?

Meteorites bring us iron, copper, gold. Why not arsenic, or a worse, unknown poison, from some vicious interstellar neighbor?

In the Chicago Herald-Examiner, Calvin Coolidge published an excellent short sermon on advertising. Having good merchandise is not enough, said Mr. Coolidge, "it is just as essential to create a desire for it. That is advertising."

The article concludes:
"Goode not worth advertising are

Goods not worth advertising are not worth selling."

Wise words, from a wise man.
Somebody else put it briefly:
"If your business isn't worth advertising, advertise it for sale!"

In spite of earthquakes, tidal waves and restricted territory, census re-turns show that Japan's population is 64,557,000, more than four million increase in five years.

Greater Tokio, with a population of 4,968,000, is the world's third city. Including colonies, Japan's population is

A great, power'ul people, the Japan-ese. What would be their number had they have been able to spread unre-stricted on our Pacific Coast?

Gentlemen with big necks used to say women should not vote until they became as brave as men. They vote now, and have always been much braver than men. Consider for instance Miss Winifred Spooner, English, twenty-three years old, flying from London to South Africa, attempting to make the trip in five days.

Her plane was forced down on the Mediterranean at midnight two miles from shore. Miss Spooner and her flying companion, who was not a good swimmer, were both injured. This did not keep the young English girl from swimming two miles to the shore through the darkness seeking help for her companion.

Washington thinks there is a probability of war in Europe in the next three to five years. It might come sooner. We learned in 1914 that the crack of a pistol and the foolishness of rulers can start a war as quickly as a match can start There may be another pistol shot, or something like it.

Business asks: "What would be the effect of European war on the United States?"

This country, we hope, would not send ten billion dollars to help along Europe's fighting, and would not ship three million men to join a fight that is not started by us.

The war would produce the usual The war would produce the usual temporary prosperity boom here, top prices for copper, cotton, wheat, great demand for everything we produce.
Then, as war helps nobody on earth, we should, eventually, bear our share of the loss, as we are paying now, with our depression, for the last big

General Hugh L. Cooper, the American hydraulic engineer in charge of the Russian waterfall project, with its enormous dam, a mile long, believes that Russian ideas will change, gradually, and become lees violently Communistic.

They will, of course. Communism says to divide. Human beings are selfish, and as they accumulate more property, the idea of dividing interests them less and less.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

Last Tuesday evening at the Clark Room of the Christian Endeavor Building, Boston, Mr. L. G. Van Lleuwen, former director of the West End Community House, brought a fine message to the County and Union officers assembled there for the monthly Board meeting of the Middlesex County of the Middlesex County Missionary Superintendent. Mr. Ralph Colby of Watertown presided over the business session at which time reports were heard from nearly all the County officers showing a marked increase in the activities of the local Unions. In the Campaign report Norumbega Union led the County by nearly nine hundred points.

Mr. Edward Simpson, president of the Norumbega Christian Endeavor Union, is recovering from a recent operation for appendicitis.

The next meeting of the Union will be held on Tuesday, January 13, at the Weverley Congregational church. The meeting will be featured by a Recognition Banquet to the State officers who were recently elected in Lawrence, each giving a short talk on the work of their department. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. Alan D. Creelman of North Scituate, pastoral counselor of the State Union.

A Music Meeting in the form of a Christmas pageant "Joy to the World" will take place next, Sunday evening at the North Congregational Church, at 6 p. m.

Many societies in the Union report plans for carol singing on Christmas Eve, the distribution of baskets of food and the giving of toys to needy families in the different communities. Some societies are giving freely of their money to worthy organizations to make the holiday season happier for some dependent person.

This was followed by announcements, and plans were made for the Annual Ball this year to be held December 26th at Nutting's on the Charles. THE GREAT AMERICAN VALUE

BIGGER

BETTER

Fine-car distinction and quality in the new Chevrolet Six

Again, Chevrolet and General Motors have utilized their combined resources to establish a new and higher standard of value for the American motor car.

The new Chevrolet represents a type of economical transportation that America has long anticipated—a low-priced six styled with such striking talent and good taste, so smartly beautiful and complete in its perfection of detail, so advanced and refined mechanically that you will immediately recognize it as the Great American Value.

This great value is the outcome of four basic Chevrolet advantages: (1) The savings of volume production in nineteen immense, modern plants. (2) The economies which result from great purchasing power. (3) The benefits of continuous research in General Motors laboratories and on the General Motors Proving Ground. And (4) the close as ciation with the Fisher Body Corporation who, this year, have surpassed all their previous achievements in developing bodies of outstanding quality, refinement and value.

These basic advantages have made it possible to build a finer car at lower cost. They have enabled Chevrolet to offer a car with a longer wheelbase-greater roominess and comfort-strikingly smarter style—impressive new luxury-more thoroughly satisfactory performance—greater de-pendability. And to pass on these savings of efficient manufacturing to the buyer in the form of lower prices!

A Few Observations On Savings By EARL G. MANNING

worthy of comment.

I met a man recently who has always been speculative minded, and for many years has been remarkably elever at guessing—and I say that advisedly—the movements of the stock market, to his profit.

He has not been so fortunate during the last year, however. He admitted he has lost more in principal and "paper profits" during this period than he had made in the past five rears.

than he had under he can be years.

Said he, "I have taken a first-class licking during the last few months, so much so that I have arrived at one definite conclusion, and that is—any surplus that I have during the next two years, I am going to put right in the savings bank, where I can get it when I want it. I have arrived at the time in life when I can't afford to take so many chances as I have in the nast".

It has been my observation that for the family man on an income of less than $10,000 a year more losses occur than gains, if he tries to buck the stock market. Incidentally, a loss to such a man usually assumes the form of a calamity because usually when he does lose, a greater portion of his savings is swept away all at once.

(Copyright, Earl G. Manning, 1930.) MEETING OF NEWTON REAL ESTATE MEN

The Newton Board of the Boston Real Estate Exchange will meet Friday evening, December 19th, at the Woodland Golf Club. The speaker of the evening will be E. Fred Cullen of the Johnson Educator Food Company. Other guests will be Walter Channing, Charles E. Lee, and Henry W. Merrill of the Boston Real Estate Exchange.

Volunteer Service Is Quadrupled

At the December meeting of the Welfare Conference of the Newton Central Council, held this month joint ly with the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs at the Y. M. C. A. on

This is the ninth in a series of articles written by Mr. Manning, in which he discusses some of the various methods of accumulation.

This subject is a part of the discussions which Mr. Manning is conducting before the Women's Clubs of Newton under the auspices of the Newton Trust Company.

It is a curious thing, but records show that in times of industrial depression and stock market recessions, like those we have recently passed through, that savings banks deposits always show an increase in amount. There may be many contributory causes for this, but perhaps one which I have personally noticed may be worthy of comment.

I met a man recently who has always been speculative minded, and for many years has been remarkably clever at guessing—and I say that advisedly—the movements of the stock A very lively discussion took place in regard to volunteer motor service, the why, where and how. Miss Louise Jellerson, in charge of volunteer service for the Council, made a report. Every few days, she said, and sometimes more than once a day, calls come to the Council office from various agencies for different kinds of service,—most often for volunteers to take children or sick people to clinics and hospitals, or for clerical assistance. The astonishing growth of this kind of service was shown when Miss Jellerson gave the statistics of the corresponding periods of this year and last, showing that where 17 calls were made on the Council for volunteer motor service last year, 61 were teer motor service last year, 61 were made this year, or nearly four times less than $10,000 a year more losses doccur than gains, if he tries to buck the stock market. Incidentally, alloss to such a man usually assumes to such a man usually assumes the form of a calamity because usually when he does lose, a greater portion of his savings is swept away all at once.

Experience Seems to be the Best Teacher

Fortunate is the man who has not a speculative disposition!
I will grant that investing in the market provides excitement which is comparable in thrills or regrets to no other form of speculative activity.
Great profits have been made by a few, and without doubt few great fortunes are built except at the expense of some one else, but the number who do come through on the right side of the ledger are in a very small minority.

Advice is heeded by few. I recall the savings bank, where I can set if the min who may be then his when I can't afford to to let with the life when I can't afford to to let with the life when I can't afford to to let when I can't afford to to let with the life when I can't afford to to let with the life when I can't afford to to let when I can't afford to to let with the life when I can't afford to to let with the life when I can't afford to to let when I can't afford to to let with the life when I can't afford the life when I can't affo and until you are earning from $8,000 to $10,000 a year, invest the greater portion of your savings in life insurance and in savings or Co-operative Banks!"

"If you observe this formula, you will have few regrets, little excitement, but considerable peace of mind." The Problem of the Man Earning Less Than $10,000 a Year saves more than $2500 of it.

Economics show that about half of this sum should be applied to the purise leaves not much over $1000 a year to be invested in other channels.

Confer On Proposed New Traffic Artery From Worcester To Boston

Worcester Man Would Connect With Commonwealth Avenue - Compromise Plan Suggested

A conference was held Tuesday night at City Hall on the matter of night at City Hall on the matter of the new Boston to Worcester traffic artery. The conference was arranged to Mayor Weeks to enable members of the Newton Board of Aldermen and the Planning Board to listen to a plan advanced by Russell Harmon of Worcester which would divert the Boston and Worcester trunk line highway from Boylston street in this city to a different route which would send the traffic on this important new State Highway over Commonwealth avenue.

State Highway over Commonwealth avenue.

Mr. Harmon, who represents the Worcester Automobile Club and who has been an important factor in matters pertaining to traffic improvements in Worcester County was largely responsible for the construction of the new State Highway which runs through Auburn, Charlton and other towns South of Worcester giving a short route to Hartford and New York. He presented his plan to a group which comprised Mayor Weeks, Henry I, Harriman of the Metropolitan District Commission, State Senator Arthur W. Hollis, several members of the Newton Board of Aldermen and the Legislature from Wellesley and Town Counsel Bunker of Wellesley. Also present were City Solicitor Bartlett, Street Commissioner Stuart and City Engineer Morse.

The plans of the Department of Public Works of the Commonwealth.

and City Engineer Morse.

The plans of the Department of Public Works of the Commonwealth call for a practically straight traffic artery between Boston and Worcester following for the most part the route of the old Boston to Worcester turnpike. This turnpike in Newton is known as Boylston street; in Wellesley as Worcester street. Running east to west through the southerly part of this city, it is located in the least developed section of Newton and its conversion into a State Highway would not only improve this road, but would cause the least interference with established districts in the city and less traffic hazards.

Mr. Harmon advocated the abandon-

Mr. Harmon advocated the abandon ment of the plan to use Boylston street as Newton's link in the new State road which will probably carry more traffic than the Boston to Providence highway and much more than the Newburyport turnpike. He prothe Newburyport turnpike. He proposed that instead of running through Wellesley Hills, that the new Worcester turnpike be routed to the north of that village from a point near Framingham Centre, cross the Charles River near the gravel pit on Grove street, continue either to a point near Beacon street, or across the Woodland Golf Links area to connect with Com monwealth avenue and then use the avenue towards Boston.

avenue towards Boston.

His reasons for making this proposal were—to prevent the tremendously heavy traffic which will come over this route from jamming into Brookline Village where inadequate facilities for handling it exist; to allow for access to points North and East of Boston by bringing the Worcester road to the vicinity of the intersection of Commonwealth avenue and Washington streets. West Newton, from which point automobiles going to the North and East of Boston could proceed along Washington and Watertown streets; to eliminate the objection raised by Wellesley citizens to the new artery crossing Wellesley Hills square.

Mr. Harmon told of the rapidly increasing traffic over the new highway from Worcester to Hartford, much of which will continue towards Boston over the new Boston to Worcester highway. He predicted that most of the through traffic between these two cities will go over the shorter, straighter, new road than will use the present route through Weston, Wayland and Marlboro. He referred to the advantages the new road will possess by avoiding thickly settled parts of the towns and cities through which it will pass. He argued that money will be saved in the routing of the new artery according to his plan rather than by the Worcester turnpike route, as has been planned, because the damages which would have to be paid to the Boston & Worcester Street Railway would be avoided. He predicted that most of the heavy truck traffic on the new road would not use Commonwealth avenue, but would proceed by way of Washington and Watertown streets. He also predicted that much of the truck traffic between Boston and Worcester would continue to use the present highway by way of Marlboro because the trucks will be less bothered along this route by passenger car traffic.

Mayor Weeks and the Newton aldermen were unanimous in disagreeing bothered along this route by passenger car traffic.

Mayor Weeks and the Newton aldermen were unanimous in disagreeing with Mr. Harmon's proposal. They contended that to use Commonwealth avenue as one link in the Boston to Worcester highway would ruin property values along this avenue, as well as on nearby streets. The great increase in traffic on Washington and Watertown streets in this city would increase traffic hazards through the most thickly settled parts of this city, cause traffic congestion at West Newton, Newtonville and Newton Corner and cause an intolerable condition through Nonantum. Senator Hollis also opposed Mr. Harmon's scheme and stated that if he were a member of the Board of Aldermen he would vote against it.

Mr. Harman said that the Depart-vote against it.

Mr. Harriman said that the Department of Public Works has decided on the Boylston street route and that there will be no need of causing traffic congestion at Brookline Square as it is proposed to build a road from Boylston street below Hammond street at Brookline across the golf links which will connect with Cleveland Circle near the reservoir and thus allow much of the traffic from the new Worcester route to be diverted onto Beacon street and Commonwealth avenue towards Boston. Mr. Harriman also advocated the widening of the also advocated the widening of the Cochituate road so that traffic using the Worcester road can have this route to reach points north of Boston.

Mr. Jacobs of Wellesley told of the desire of his town to have any route which will take the new Worcester traffic artery away from Wellesley Hills square.

Hills square.

A compromise plan was suggested which would divert the new trunk line highway at a point east of Framingham Centre along a route between South avenue and Worcester street in Natick and Wellesley, bringing the highway to the north of Wellesley Hills to a point near the Charles River. It would follow the river on the Wellesley side to a point near Echo Bridge at Upper Falls and then be connected with Boylston street. This plan would add extra mileage to the present plan which had as one (Continued on page 8) be radically changed.

The appropriations made by the Alderman were: Water Department building construction, $37,000; for addition and alterations at Bigelow School, $83,000; laying out of Day street, additional $400; Playground Department, bills in connection with water service at Boyd Park, $250,40; Law Department, settlement of claims, Margaret E. Gardner, damage to automobile, $65; William T. Halliday, damage to house caused by blasting, $20. A bond issue of $75,000 was authorized which will be used to defray the cost of the work at the Bigelow School.

Alderman Bail, Chairman of the School.

Alderman Bail, Chairman of the Finance Committee, explained that while the addition to be erected at the Bigelow Junior High School will not complete the changes required there, alterations costing over $50,000 will be made next year on the existing building and when these are completed the entire city will have junior high facilities. Alderman Powers said that Newton Corner residents. Powers said that Newton Corner resi dents will appreciate the improve-ments at the Bigelow School, even though when they are made this school will not compare with schools such as the Frank A. Day and Levi Warren Schools which were erected as modern junior high school build-ings, whereas the Bigelow School was built a generation ago as a grade school and cannot afford the facilities provided by the real junior high school structures

The Aldermen, on the recommendation of the Traffic Committee amended the traffic rules so that parking on Centre street, Newton Centre, on the east side of the street between Langley road and Beacon street will be restricted to one hour. This change was made at the request of Newton Centre business men. Centre street along this section has been used as an all-day parking space by autoists who by so doing deprived customers of stores in the vicinity from having limited parking facilities.

The Board voted to widen the cor-

limited parking facilities.

The Board voted to widen the corner of Mill and Morton streets and accepted an offer of land from John T. Burns to accomplish this improvement. A change was made in the City Ordinances so that in the future the Bulldings Department and not the City Messenger will have charge of raising and lowering flags on city owned flagstaffs.

President Collins of the Board appointed a committee of three to arrange for the annual dinner of the Aldermen, which the Aldermen pay for themselves. This committee is (Continued on page 8)

The Board of Aldermen held a special meeting on Monday night at which several important matters were transacted. Large appropriations were made for the construction of a new wing at the Bigelow School, at Newton and an addition to the building of the Water Department at Edinboro street, Newtonville. The Board, sitting as a Committee of the Whole listened to a plan outlined by Chairman of Assessors John W. Murphy by which the Ward lines in this city will be radically changed.

Night Mail Handled Here During Rush

Newton Postoffice Works Nearly One Quarter Million Pieces

Expeditious handling of the Christ

Expeditious handling of the Christmas mail throughout the city marked one of the biggest and most successful years for Newton postoffice employes. Due in a large measure, it is believed, to the system of having night collections made and sorted at the Newton Postoffice, the efficient work revealed an admirable record for all who had a part in it.

The fact that during the peak of the deluge of Christmas letters nearly a quarter-of-amillion were collected and sorted for delivery in the course of twenty-four hours at Newton shows the tremendous task placed upon officials of all grades. The highest praise has been bestowed from many sections and all who shared the responsibility are being warmly congratulated.

One of the interesting features was the employment for special work of 50 men under Supt. John M. Fitzgerald, in addition to his regular staff. These men were taken from the list of applicants for temporary jobs and were provided with periods of employment ranging from five to ten days.

With a supplementary force of workers Supt. Fitzgerald was enabled to handle not only the mail that otherwise would have been carted to the South Station for sorting, but also to assist the centralization point for Newton mail at Newton Centre where several times the amount was excessively large even for a Christmas rush.

when asked about the operation of temporary system for Newton. Supt. Fitzgeraid paid a high tribute to all clerks, carriers and others, including the temporary staff. He admitted that he himself had worked many days for a period of from 12 to 16 hours, but called attention to the splendid spirit of co-operation and industry shown. He said he was satisfied to have the results such as to please the residents tended to give the very best service.

GALAXY OF STARS AT ALUMNI MEET

Since these meets were scheduled the alumni have won but twice and while no prediction can be made as to the outcome of the coming affair the undergraduates will have their work cut out for them even with a number of high class and veteran performers on hand. Last year no alumni meet was held because the year previous but a handful of graduates had turned out to compete and it was thought best not to attempt to stage such a meet. With many former athletes now representing various colleges on the boards Coach Enoch received assurance from a sufficient number that they would be on hand and arrangements have been completed. The Newton mentor has tried to get in touch with all wearers of the track "N" who would care to make their appearance but in some instances has failed to make connections. In any event he wishes it announced that all alumni who desire may compete.

Newton and Medford met on each other's home track as since that year the two teams have staged their meet at the Huntington school track at the Boston "Y." That same year Newton lost one-half of its two-meet series with Brookline when the Wealthy Towners took a 41 to 27 lead on their own track. In the second half of the meet held at Newton the orange and black performers rolled up 51 points to 26 for Brookline to win by a total score of 78 to 67. In 1927 the team placed fourth at Andover and third in the State meet.

The 1928 team was led by Captain Malcolm Reed and lost but two meets. Brookline won the series by a 78 to 71 score after taking a 42 to 35 lead at Newton and holding the orange and black to a 36 to 36 tie on their own track. Huntington School also took Newton into camp by a margin of 35½ to 32½. At Andover and in the State meet that year Newton placed fourth.

The following year Coach Enoch had the best team that he ever coached at Newton with such stars as Captain Dick Reynolds, Bob Ewing.
Carl Pescosolido, Charlie Hall and Arghur Holling and the State were won that year with Ewing. Carl Pescosolido and Reynolds sweeping the dash several times.

The broad jump should be closely contested. Greene, Tom Marriner and Malcolm Whitney will be the schoolboy hopes against Fullerton, Hammond, Kinraide, Irving Fine and Milton Finn. Kinraide is at M. I. T. where he is also a dash man, Fine is at Yale and Finn at Boston University. Fullerton holds the Newton record for the event, Green has been bettering 9 feet 4 inches in practice and will give his opponents trouble. Marriner and Whitney were both members of last year' team.

In the hurdles Newton has another potential star in Captain Milton Greene. Last year he grew rapidly and although he scored many points was handicaped in his efforts. This year he is stepping over the barriers in fast time and is looking ahead to a good year. He will also enter the broad and high jumps as a probable point scorer. Bradley is also fast over the hurdles and is looked on as a point scorer. The alumni will have Cole, Sydney Carter, Fullerton, and possibly Reynolds, Hall, Kollmyer and Edgar Warren. Carter is also a sophomore at Harvard, Hall a freshman star at M. I. T. In cross-country and the middle distance races and Warren is a junior at Yale. Hall equalled the freshman 1000-yard record on the Tech track last Saturday and is one of the strong spots of the yearling outfit. Warren has been concentrating on baseball at Yale but may enter the hurdles for the alumni.

Alfred Mouser and Robert Bell were Newton's best bet in the 300-yard run last winter until Bell sprained his ankle and Mouser had to bear the burden alone. Both are going better than ever this season and should give any alumni entrant a battle. Unless the dashes and hurdles take too much out of some of the alumni athletes, some of them may double up in the 300. Fullerton was a 300-yard runner while in high school as were Cole. Pearson, Fowler, John Mullen and Kilburn Adams. Pearson holds the record of 37 4-5 seconds on the track with the present banks. Kilburn Adams is now at Wesleyan University and Fowler Cole is working.

The 600 will furnish some great.

a keen competitor for a number of years. Reynolds is another 600-yarder of note as well as Captain Malcolm Reed of the 1928 team. Dick Gibbs of the 1929 team may also be entered in the race.

Newton might possibly take such a stand in the present case and request Brookline to retain the 38 to 7 score as most certainly should be done on the local records.

Hall Equals Record

Charlie Hall, ex-Newton track captain at M. I. T., had the distinction of equalling the freshman record for the 1000-yard run and yet not win the race last Saturday in the third handicap meet on the Engineers board track. Hall was running from scratch and finished one yard behind Smith, another freshman, who had a handicap of 40 yards. Hall was timed individually and with the aid of a sprinting finish which he comes through with even in two-mile runs he was clocked in 2 m. 27 2-5 seconds. One of Hall's chief assets while at Newton was his ability to come from behind and fight through to the finish. This characteristic is one of the attributes of a star and within the next few years Hall should be one of the best in collegiate circles.

handled one of two ways are at hand if it is deemed best.

Either the state association should amend its ruling to the effect that in such case the offended school shall be given the right to notify the offending school that the records shall retain the true score of the game with a foot note of forefeiture or in case no championship is involved the privilege of accepting or rejecting the forfeiture shall be given to the offended school. The former step would make both the score of the game and the fact that a forfeiture ensued a matter of record and if the score is somewhat one-sided it will be clear that the use of the ineligible player had little affect upon the score. If the use of the ineligible player had affected a close score or a question of the outcome is raised the forfeiture will mean something. The latter step might possibly be embarrassing to the offended school if a championship is involved necessitating the limitation of the right to accept or refuse the forfeit to such cases where no championship is involved.

Form Walkers' Club

The first step in the formation of a Boston Walkers' Club was taken on Monday night at the B. A. with Edgar G. Wilson of Newton as temporary chairman. A committee of seven including Wilson, and Alfred W. Bell. Jr., of Newton Highlands was named to draw up by-laws and frame a constitution. Both Wilson and Bell have been prominent in this athletic activity in recent years and have won several titles.

Chicago Loses Ewing

The many friends of Robert Ewing, former Newton high school star dash man, regret to learn that personal reasons caused his withdrawal from the University of Chicago where he was a sophomore. Last year Ewing was a star on the freshman team and was counted upon as a varsity performer this winter and next spring.

Romaine and Fowler, Nathan Pearson and Reed teamed up. The following year Bob Ewing, Dick Reynolds, Pearson, and Kilburn Adams set a new record at the State meet which pulled the team into third place in the final standing, while last year after considerable experimenting Coach Enoch found that Irwin, Bell, Guzzi and Quinlan were his fastest quartet. Other graduates who may be on hand to participate are Walter McQuiston, ex-Dartmouth; Winston Mercer, ex-Boston University; Howard Woeks, ex-Cornell; Walter Ryall; Sam Moore, of the U. S. Naval Academy and Tom Clausen, former Holy Cross and present B. A. A. middle distance runner.

With such an aggregation of athletes, many of whom are now representing their various colleges on the boards, the alumni can get together a team that would give even the best college preformers a thrilling battle for honors. Newton's best hopes will be in the possibility of picking up second and third places here and there with an occasional first place to nose out the alumni.

Reall ESTATE

Final papers have gone to record at the Middlesex South Registry of Deeds transferring the eightroom frame colonial house at 34 Westminster road, Newton Centre, from Edward L. Bennett of Lowell to L. Mr. Powers will occupy as a permanent home.

The nine-room frame dwelling at No. 30 Highland avenue, Newtonville, has been leased to Dr. Howard S. Lawrence of 26 West street, Boston. Roger V. E. Sherman, Manager of the Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton, has leased the frame colonial house at 54 Bothfeld road, Newton Centre.

PARAMOUNT-NEWTON

No doubt the greatest Radió enter-No doubt the greatest Radio entertainers of the day are Amos 'n' Andy. Newton will have a treat next week beginning Sunday with a continuous performance of "Check and Double Check" at the Paramount Newton Theatre. The holiday school vacation will give the little ones a chance to see their idols of the air on the living screen. On the same program will be a great story of the great Canadian North Woods by Willard Mack, a story of the Royal Mounted Police. Gilbert Roland takes the leading role and does a fine job. So popular were the demands for this picture before it was started that it was recorded in five different languages and today is playing in various places where these languages are spoken. For New Year's day, which will also be continuous will be seen Raoul Walsh's great success "The Big Trail." a story of the early frontier days when men, women and children had to fight for their lives with the Indians while passing over the plains to Oregon. Some say it is greater than The Covered Wagon. At any rate it is the biggest production of its kind ever photographed. John Wayne carries the role of the hero scout and has made a name for himself in motion picture history. On the same program will be "Fast and Loose," a story of the younger set of flappers.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Tis the day after Christmas. As far as any poefry goes we'll stop right, there. Not but what there is much poetry and such things in the remaining holiday spirit that surrounds us, but we are too much overcome with what has taken place in past week or ten days. We need time to recover, not for indulging in verse-making or the like. In the first place we must straighten out the list of Christmas cards and find out how it was we overlooked certain people and included others who overlooked us. That is one of the most perplexing things that happens. We take a list of names which we think comprises, about everybody to whom we feel a card of greeting should be sent. After we have checked it with our cards we feel that this year, at least, it will be perfect. Did you ever think that there is no such thing as perfection in connection with keeping track of friends at Christmas? Somebody gets left out or you are left out yourself. It is a sort of falling with many of its that we worre over little ages.

It is a sort of failing with many of us that we worry over little acts of omission. I am disposed to think that we place too much stress on our failures. The idea that comes to us when we say, "Oh, and I never sent him a card. We proceed to mail a New Year's card as a half-way measure towards explating our crime, but even then we seldom cease to reproach ourselves. Do you know, I think the joke is almost entirely on us. The fact that we may have failed to send Mr. and Mrs. Soandso a card has probably never occurred to these good people. We have doubtless been flattering ourselves. They may have forgotten whether they remembered us or not. Possibly they would be surprised to learn that we had not sent them one. I have good reason to believe we take the whole thing too seriously. And I'll tell you why.

It was two or three years ago that treeslyed from a man and by wife.

complaints and objections has finally come into being.

This Board, successor to the former board of appeal made up of the State Treasurer. State Auditor and a member of the Executive Council, will have three members whose duty it shall be to render a decision in all matters appealed to it by citizens, property holders and aggrieved taxpayers. It is authorized to render with or without comment a report of each decision on the statement of facts after a hearing which shall be open to the public. As to matters of fact the decision of the board shall be final. Upon alleged error in matters of law either the appellant or appellee shall have an appeal direct to the full bench of the Supreme Court. Causes before the board shall be by petition, setting forth a statement of facts and praying or asking for a finding upon such facts.

These appeals may be from the decision or findings or assessment of the State Tax Commissioner, the County Commissioners or the local authorites. Nevertheless, in certain cases

These appeals may be from the decision or findings or assessment of the State Tax Commissioner, the County Commissioners or the local authorities. Nevertheless, in certain cases the right to appeal from the local assessors to the County Commissioners still remains, or, in the words of the act. "a person aggrieved by the judgment of the assessors may appeal to the County Commissioners or to the Board of Tax Appeal".

The automobile is a great thing for t getting us out into the country. Yes, sir, I am one of the first of those willing to admit that fact. I like the country and I don't know anything pleasanter than a ride in a smooth-running car that leads through hills, and dales, past attractively quaint houses and to some place where you will be welcome. If there is the prosspect of a farm supper I can get even more enthusiasm out of the excursion. Herein the automobile is my friend, or our friend I'd better say, for I don't own one and depend on a generous people to tote me about.

Once in the country for a visit, brief or a utomobile. Doesn't that sound like ingratitude? Well, maybe it is but I like to picture the surroundings as completely free from the intrusion of man's modern inventions. You will observe, my mind suddenly becomes romantic and demands a stage-setting for my imagination that shall be 100 percent appropriate.

Why cannot things be this way and still include the automobile, somebath.

for my imagination that shall be 100 percent appropriate.

Why cannot things be this way and still include the automobile, somebody asks? Well, I'll tell you what worries me. There is a continuous agitation to have country roads brightly lighted. The matter has been widely discussed for some years and there appears to be every reason to believe that the 1931 Legislature will favorably act on some one of the many petitions for State highway lighting that will come before it. I suppose that "the time has come", as our political orators say, for action of this kind. It is a safety measure and as such cannot be ignored but rather pushed along to an extent that will make highway accidents few and far between.

True as that may be I rather like my country roads dark. I like to see the fireflies in the meadows; to view the moon and the stars above the treetops always gives me a thrill. In fact, I would like to go back to the days when I first visited Petersham and folks went to Sunday night prayer meeting carrying lanterns. These they extinguished and left in the vestibule and upon leaving relighted them in order to brighten the path home. That picture always fascinated me.

No, indeed, I shall not be happy in a countryside that is lighted to re-ard I apologized the next time we net.

The husband said, "Well, I don't know anything about it. My wife attends to all those things for me".

I sought out his wife and repeated my words of contrition. "O, didn't you send us one of yours", she exclaimed. "I hadn't noticed, I got so many cards I don't have time to examine them".

That was my lesson. I learned that sometimes there is no sense in troubling yourself over things you think important, for other people may not think them so.

and upon learned home. That order to brighten the path home. That pleature always fascinated me.

No, indeed, I shall not be happy in a countryside that is lighted to resemble Broadway at Times Square. In Newton, where lighting on side streets is more or less dim one might be able to satisfy one's craving for dense-ly dark thoroughfares. But Newton isn't the country that I mean. It isn't sufficiently rustic. Give me dark country lanes—not that I have any evil deeds that I want to perform under the cover of darkness—but it seems to me more truly rural, that's all.

All taxpayers are potential kickers and sometimes not without reason. However, with the appointment by Governor Allen of the Personnel of the new Board of Tax Appeal, as provided by the 1930 Legislature, a court of inquiry before which to place complaints and objections has finally come into being.

This Board, successor to the former board of appeal made up of the State Treasurer, State Auditor and a member of the Executive Council, will have three members whose duty it shall be to render a decision in all matters appealed to it by citizens, property holders and aggrieved taxpayers. It is authorized to render with or without comment a report of each decision

We all appreciate the artistry of photo-engraving and of printing, although we may not understand. I am confident that you will agree that the very finest illustrating and the best of typographical work has been employed to add to the attractiveness and value of this book.

What I think was as any a bit of indegment of the assessors may appeal to the County Commissioners or to the Board of Tax Appeal".

Provision is made for the valuation of all public service or public utility equipment where a dispute arises after determination by the Tax Commissioner. The board may also hear petitions based on the rather troubles on such such as the excise tax so called, such as the excise tax on automobiles.

In practical effect the creation of the formal board, to take the place of the rather informal board as previously constituted, is a pleasant gesture towards giving to the individual citizen a place to register his kicks over his taxes and to place before an impartial commission of experts his side of a matter that means to him an annual outlay of dollars and cents. It is hoped and assumed that acting with a wise and benign oversight on such matters as shall come before it that very great good shall come of this new commission, to take the bluntness off some of our ever-present tax burden, and that in its reports provided for from year to year the board may have some practical suggestions for the Legislature from time to time, which will help to clarify in the public mind at least some of the rather complicated tax matters.

Possibly it marks the beginning of a new era in this old Commonwealth, that it may even lessen the burden of work at present heaped upon an earnest and industrious State Tax Commissioner. The board may not the body politic nor yet a painless method of extracting the last pound of taxable flesh for the benefit of the State, which is all of us, since the State is the citizen, but it is certain that we are at last on a forward looking robot and the following, taken from the introuble show based on the following, taken from the introuble shows as application as written by Samuel Eliot Morison. MOVING PICTURES. The reports of the Previewing Committee, composed of Clubwomen who have the interest of the theatre-going public at heart in advising them against worthless, ordinary, or vulgar plays, and in pointing out the really entertaining, wholesome, enjoyable moving pictures, deserve the earnest attention of all citizens. The time and sincere effort that these unselfish women give, that mothers may know just what kind of pictures their sons and daughters are going to see when they set forth for an afternoon or evening of entertainment, should be rewarded by all Clubwomen, at least, in reading their reports, and in gladly availing themselves of this excellent safeguard. The Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands held its Shakespearean Character Party at the home of Mrs. James F. Cooper, 2 Kingston road, Saturday afternoon, December 20. The man y interesting personages of Shakespeare, from queens, romantic and comic characters, down to Mistress Quickly were moving about and conversing as living persons.

An interesting Shakespearean story composed by Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. William E. Moore tested the ability of the members, in which blanks were to be filled in with the proper Shakespearean characters, titles of the plays, and quotations, to complete the story.

The first prize, a beautiful poinsettia, was carried off by Miss Edith McCann, who hasn't missed a meeting of the Club for ten years. The second prize a pair of embroidered towels, was won by Mrs. A. McIntosh. Music was interspersed throughout by Miss Frances Basset of the New England Conservatory of Music. This was followed with the Christmas festivities. The gorgeous Christmas tree, laden with gifts and crowned with an electric twinkling bell, smilax, holly, flowers, glowing lights, all bespoke Christmas joy. Even the centerpiece of the refreshment table was a mound of flowers dissolving itself into boutonnieres for all, conveying the love and true spirit of the hostess, for well is it known:

THE CHANGE IN WARD LINES

As recommended in his inaugural address nearly a year ago Mayor Weeks has instigated a change in the ward lines of the city. With an increase of 41.7 per cent in population in the city during the past ten years the existing ward and precinct lines have become far from satisfactory. The new lines provide for seven wards, each having three precincts, instead of the present seven wards with from two to five nstead of the present seven wards with from two to five precincts. Furthermore, each ward will have approximately four thousand voters, making a far more even distribution of votes and representation. The new lines will probably make little if any change in the political complexion of each ward and Newton should remain "the banner Republican city of the Commonwealth" for some time to come.

WHY NOT ALL THE TIME?

During the ten day period before Christmas the night collection of mail throughout the city was handled at the Newton Postoffice instead of being carried to the South station at Boston for sorting. It was done most satisfactorily. Under the usual practice of having this mail sorted in Boston for delivery the following the south station. delivery the following morning we have seen the time when such mail has been delayed when there was no rush priod. If the collection of mail after six o'clock in the evening can be handled at Christmas time at the local office it can be done throughout the year. Why not?

COMPLETES THE SYSTEM

The appropriation by the Board of Aldermen of sufficient funds to build a wing upon the Bigelow School at Newton and to further alter the building into a junior high school assures the completion of this educational system in Newton. When alterations are completed and with the opening of the new school now under construction at Newton Centre each section of the city will have previous feeting the city will be a provision of the city will be a section of the city will have provisions for its pupils of junior high school age. The growth of the city in recent years has caused a constant demand for more school buildings. While the problem of new schools and alterations will always require considerable attention we have, temporarily at least, caught up with the problem. caught up with the problem.

UNEQUALLED BEAUTY

Christmas has always been and always will be a day of beauty. Yesterday was the first real "white" Christmas in eight years. A "white" Christmas adds more beauty through the increased association of purity with the spirit of the day. In recent years the practice of illumination of homes has become widespread and outward manifestation of the Christ-mas spirit has been even more beautiful. Never before have we witnessed such beauty as revealed with the combination of these decorations and the snow-laden branches of trees and of these decorations and the show-haden branches of trees and shrubbery. The four inch snowfall of Tuesday gave a thick white coating to everything that under the vari-colored lights magnificently diffused into a soft coloring that enhanced the Christmas spirit with unequalled material beauty.

'Tis the day after Christmas and New Year's in sight With resolves to be made in attempts to do right Happy New Year to All; may the whole year be bright.

Sneezing "Jinx"

In Bohemia, if you hear a sneeze and cannot see the person, you must be quick to say, "God make you well again," because the sneezer may be a again, because the sneezer may be a wandering soul whom your blessing will deliver from exile. In Bengal, the natives make a profound bow to pla-cate the forces of darkness. In India all present say "love" and the sneez ers reply "with you," which little ceremony removes the fatal jinx con-nected with sneezing.

The Cornish Language

The ancient Cornish language has not been spoken for a century and a half, though many traces of it linger in the dialect of the county. In 1777 died Polly Jeffrey (nee Pentreath), in her ninety-third year, and she, it is said upon good authority, was the last person who spoke Cornish. She was born and died at Mouschole (pro-nounced "Mauzel"), a fishing village on Mounts bay.

For 30 years Fort Rose, in northern California, was a Russian outpost that threatened the Spanish possession of what is today the Redwood empire re-sort lands of many San Franciscans. It was established in 1806 by Count Rezanov and garrisoned by 250 men The famous Greek chapel and a corner of the stockade were heavily built of enduring redwood.

Before the Telegraph

Before the telegraph was developed commercially, in the early 1840's semaphore stations were established, with the outpost at Highland, N. J., and signals were read by telescope and passed from station to station to New York. The telegraph line to Highlands was constructed about 1850 and ex tended to Sandy Hook in 1853.

Summer Camps Prove Value

The organized summer camp had its beginning about 50 years ago. In 1880 Ernest Balch established a camp for boys on Lake Asquam in New Hampshire. Shortly afterward other camps were established, and the movement began to grow rapidly. The health, educational and recreational values of summer camps for boys had become so well organized by 1900 that a sim-llar movement for camps for girls was launched at that time.

Seedless Oranges

The original seedless oranges were produced in Brazil by means of bud-ding and the orange trees of this type in the United States all descended from two imported Brazilian trees. Buds or budding sticks are taken from seedless orange trees in spring or fall and inserted in two-year-old seedling orange trees of ordinary type. When the buds send out shoots the seedlings are cut back so that only the budding portions develop.

The beggar who, when "up" at a London Police court, was found to have been carrying a piece of coal in his cap—"for luck"—is not alone in his belief in such a charm. Burglars also are supposed to feel safer, on their unlawful occasions, if they are similarly equipped. Here is a vestige, probably, of the sun-worshiper's su-perstitious reverence for any object that is associated with fire.

The Welsh breed of cattle is black, with fairly long horns. The cattle mature a little slowly, but grow to a large size and furnish beef of prime quality. Until 1904 they were of two types, known as North and South Welsh, but the Welsh Black Cattle society was formed in that year and a common herd book was established.

Prohibition Illegal! France Worries Italy. Dole, and Bread Line.

Einstein Sees Reality.

The country discusses the decision of Federal Judge William T. Clark, who says prohibition isn't legal, because the people didn't pass on it.

people didn't pass on it.

Judge Clark is interesting to millions of women, although they may not know it, for he is one of the famous "O. N. T.
Clark spool thread" family.

Judge Clark's decision that prohibition isn't legal will be reversed by the Supreme Court probably.

That highest Court will be slow to render a decision making illegal all that has been done during the past ten years, in the crusade that has created bootlegging, hijacking, shootings, racketeering and other features of the boot-

The Supreme Court will hardly condemn everything that the national gov-ernment has done in the name of pro-hibition, at this late date.

Judge Clark, declaring that the people never had a chance to pass on the prohibition amendment, said: "The people can't be expected to re-spect laws they don't pass."

Admiral Pratt, chief of our naval operations, says it is ridiculous "to hope that the United States Navy will ever equal that of Great Britain, without a development of our Merchant Marine." We arranged to have only as many warships as the British, carrying out British orders in that respect most humbly. And we forget that Britain has a fleet of gigantic passenger carrying ships that can be used for transporting troops, munitions, all ready for mounting high-powered guns. Each great merchant ship is a warship in it-

The Telegrafo says that ships from

The Italian, Napoleon Bonaparte, starting from Corsica to the military school in France, finally ruled the French and conquered much of Europe. It would be strange if France returned by the Napoleon road to conquer Italy through Corsica.

There is trouble in India also, troops again called out to stop riots. Hindus don't like cloth made in England. When a truck loaded with such cloth ap-peared, the Hindus, who have ideas about fighting that are very un-Eng-lish, lay down in front of the heavy truck to stop it. It killed one of them. To win liberty with "fighting" of that kind will take a long time.

Congressman Tilson says the Mc-Nary bill is the "dole" in disguise. For some reason, every professional "100 per cent American" seems to have a horror of the dole.

norror of the dole.

Is the dole so much worse than the bread line? Is it better to let a man stand in line two or three hours, to get a miserable cup of coffee and a piece of bread, than to give him and his family, without waste, and directly, enough to keen from standing these forces. to keep from starving-that is, if you really want to keep him from starving?
Why worry so much about the dole
if you have conditions that demand it?

The great Einstein is on his way to the Pacific coast, going, most wisely, through the Panama Canal. He will see things there that will make matter, space and time seem temporarily real.

of course, he can prove that there is nothing there except deceptive aggregations of electrons and protons, negatively and positively charged, the electrons going around the protons trillions of times in a second.

Nevertheless, the very solid looking locks and cuts are sufficiently real to satisfy the ordinary mortal.

The death of a murderer with many years in prison ahead of him in Sing Sing Prison is made more interesting by the fact that he was an editor. You rarely read of editors committing murder. The usual thing has been for somebody to shoot the editor.

The dead editor murdered his wife, and by way of anti-climax his body goes to Washington to be buried beside her.

If they arise at the same moment in obedience to Gabriel's trumpet, "in the flesh" to meet their Maker, what will the wife say to the husband who killed her and then insisted on being buried Science says the world will not end for at least a million million years. Perhaps she will have forgotten all about it by that time.

The Importance of Making A Will

We all have some property which must be disposed of at our death. It may be a few dollars in the savings bank, or a share or two of stock in some company.

in any event there must be an accounting to the state, if there is any casn or valuable property, and this must be done through the agency of one who is known as an executor.

one who is known as an executor.

The executor or executrix makes an inventory of this property and reports it to the state authorities. If the amount is above statutory exemptions, certain taxes have to be paid.

The question of taxes is a minor consideration in comparison with the inconvenience, delay and liability that is engendered for those who are finally the recipients of the parceling-out process, which the law indicates must be observed.

In the first place it is well to un-out process, which the law indicates must be observed.

In the first place it is well to understand that the giving away of property is merely a license, not a right. If that license is not exercised by you, the laws determine very clearly how it shall be divided among your nearest of kin.

It is not my intention in this article to go into the very voluminous detail of that process. That very properly is the function of the lawyer to advise you upon, when you consult him in the drawing of your will.

consult him in the drawing of your will.

It is enough to say that if you don't execute a will, it is a somewhat expensive process, involving the filing of a bond by the executor—perhaps the appointment of a guardian for minor children—the possibility of a yearly accounting to the probate court for property which comes to minor children, until they become of age—and legal fees, to say nothing about a host of annoying inconveniences.

All this procedure can be greatly simplified by making a will, appointing some individual or institution as executor, exempting him from giving surety on his bond and giving him authority to settle the estate, be it large or small, in accordance with your desires.

Instance an example of what I mean.

or small, in accordance with your desires.

Just as an example of what I mean:
A young friend of mine had a rather thriving optical business in a down town office building. He married, and in a year or so a fine young son was born to the couple. He had taken $1,000 of life insurance with me some time prior to his marriage, which he made payable to his father.

Shortly after his marriage I induced him to take $2500 more, this time making it payable to his wife. I suggested he should change the other policy to his wife, too, but that he neglected to do.

He had hired a safe deposit box in a nearby bank and had placed all his valuable papers, bank books, insurance policies, lease of his house and business office therein—the box being in his own name and not jointly with his wife, as is sometimes the custom.

About a year after he took his last insurance policy he contracted pneumonia and died, the illness lasting less than a week.

The shock of his death would have been severe enough under any circumstances, but coming as it did almost immediately following the birth of a

Camel's Swimming Power Proved by Experience

Camels can swim if the occasion demands, despite their long association with desert travel.

While making an investigation in the archives of the Mormon church, in Salt Lake City, Frederick S. Dellen-baugh of New York found an article written in 1857 by a member of Beale's expedition in the Southwest in 1857 and 1858. The purpose of the expedi-tion was to determine the utility of camels for transportation in the American desert.

The article, according to Mr. Dellenbaugh, related how, when the expedi-tion reached the Colorado river there was some doubt whether the camels could swim the 290-yard stream. Lieutenant Beale led one of the animals to the water and drove it in. As soon as it found itself out of its depth, the article related, the camel struck out with ease and swam the stream. The others were sent across in batches of Likened to Mausoleum exterior of Buckingham palace gained considerably by its refacing soon after King George V took pos-session. Before that its appearance made it the subject of many gibes, and so long ago as 1830, while it was being built, Joseph Jekyll, the famous master in chancery, wrote of it as re-minding him of nothing so much as a mausoleum-an opinion shared by William IV, who kept away from it as much as possible, writes a columnist in the Manchester Guardian.

The late King Edward, too, never concealed his dislike for the appearance of his town residence. "What a magnificent workhouse it would have made!" he confided to Lord Farguhar when he first went to live there. Shortly after, pausing to watch painters at work on the exterior of a wellknown West end store, he remarked: "That is what Buckingham palace needs, but unfortunately I am not a successful draper."

Why Attempt to Define Reason for Laughter?

Why do we laugh? Why do we ever begin to laugh? A psychiatrist ex-plained the whole thing to the British association. He took the laughter of a child and divided it neatly into ten stages of development. At eighteen months the infant had discovered most of the reasons for laughter which adult minds possess.

And, lucky child, it had no more idea at the end of it all than the rest of us have that laughter was not just a simple uproarious part of the whole jolly business of being alive. Shade of Rabelais, shade of Cervantes, shade of English Shakespeare, why did you laugh? Would you have been merrier with a list of reasons for merriment in your hands like the list of "distinct damnations" which Browning wrote about? Why do we laugh? Stuff! about? Why do we Montreal Standard.

James Connelly of 33 Wade street, Newton Highlands, was sentenced by Judge Sanborn in the Dedham District Court on last Saturday to serve eight months in jail for having violated automobile laws. For operating a car after his license to do so had been revoked, Connelly was sentenced to four months in jail. For driving while under the influence of liquor he received another four months. For drunkenness he was fined $10. He appealed all three penalties and was held in $1300 bonds for the Grand Jury.

Newton police officials stated that the reports about Newton residents having received threatening letters are largely exaggerated. They say sometime ago some school boys sent such letters to one another but they have no knowledge of any out-break of such threats in which promi-nent residents have received the letnent residents have received the letters.

As a result of careful watching by Special Officers Feeley and Mullen two men were arrested last Friday afternoon while transporting liquor in West Newton and the place where they obtained it was later raided and a large supply of intoxicants seized. For sometime the police have suspected that liquor has been stored in the storage warehouse of Charles I. Bucknam on Kempton place. W. Newton, and have been wasching the place. When the two officers saw them leave Bucknam's building, they followed, stopped the pair near the Waltham line, and found a quantity of liquor in the car. The pair arrested were Harry Casper of Mattapan and David Kaplan of Roxbury. Following this evidence, a squad of police which included Chief Hughes, Inspector Goode and Shaughnessy and Serg. Burke went to the storage warehouse and found hundreds of gallons of alcohol, whiskey, gin and other liquors estimated to be valued at about $10,000. The big stock was removed to Police Headquarters. Bucknam was later arrested charzed valued at about $10,000. Henry Mayer, 59, of Shawmut avenue, Boston, tried to work an old trick on Fred Haggard, superintendent of the Home for Missionaries Children at 1136 Centre street, Newton Centre. Mayer came to the home with a fine story about his mother having bequeathed $3000 to the nearest charitable institution to where she had formerly resided and he had selected the home as the fortunate institution. He proffered the first payment on the bequest, supposedly $120 in a sealed envelope he brought. But, he was a little short himself at the time, and asked Mr. Haggard for a loan of $25. The latter was rather skeptical and while he went to the Trust Company office with Mayer, he had his wife telephone police headquarters. Inspector Shaughnessy met the pair and after questioning the alleged bearer of good tidings, arrested him for trying to obtain money by false pretences. The envelope was found to contain railroad time-tables.

In the Newton court on Monday Mayer was sentenced to serve six months in jail.
